Kennedy Says Program To Help All Mankind

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—President Kennedy depicted his administration's New Frontier scientific program today as a bipartisan approach to the future which would benefit all mankind.

The Democratic President said in a speech prepared for dedication of the Aerospace Medical Health Center at Brooks Air Force Base that the "New Frontiers" slogan which helped him with the presidency in 1960 "is not the exclusive property of either Democrats or Republicans."

Real Challenges

"It refers instead," he said, "to this nation's position in history today — to the fact that we stand on the edge of a new era filled with both crises and opportunities, an era to be characterized by both grim challenges and historic achievements."

This unusual bipartisanship on the part of the President seemed to reflect considerable administration worry about what is going on in Texas. The state will cast 25 electoral votes, slightly less than one-tenth of the 270 total Kennedy would need for re-election in 1964.

Look at Voter Reaction

Riding another plane, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and his wife accompanied the Kennedys to the Lone Star State for a first - hand look at voter reaction to the Kennedy legislative program — including civil rights — and how the President is handling foreign affairs.

The President planned to fly tonight to Houston, where he was scheduled to speak at an "appreciation" dinner for Rep. Albert Thomas, D-Tex.

Answers on Space

In his remarks at the medical center, Kennedy seemed to be answering those in Congress who think too much money is being shot off toward the moon in the space program.

The Senate voted Wednesday to trim $90 million from the program, reducing the total to the $5.1 billion previously approved by the House.

After three days of mingling with Democrats of every stripe,

Will Bare Subversive Documents

Russian Newsman Seized at Hotel

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Premier Cyrille Adoula is preparing to break diplomatic ties with the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia and expel their diplomats from the Congo, government sources said today.

The sources said Adoula would shortly publish documents, seized from two Soviet diplomats arrested Tuesday, which showed deep involvement of the two Communist countries in subversion in the Congo.

Timing Up to Premier

The sources said expulsion letters to the Russians and the Czechs were being readied by the Foreign Ministry. The final decision on when to deliver them is up to Adoula, they added.

Soviet Embassy officials reported that a Russian newspaperman was arrested at his hotel Wednesday night. He was Benik Beknazar - Juzbachev, correspondent of the Soviet Novosti news agency who arrived recently in Leopoldville.

The Soviet officials said they still had received no news of the two diplomats who were dragged from their car and arrested two days ago.

The two, embassy counsellor Boris Voronin and press attache Yuri Miakotnykh, were arrested on their return from Brazzaville, capital of the neighboring Congo Republic, where extremist opponents of the Adoula regime are setting up a "Congolese government in exile."

Documents Examined

Adoula and his Cabinet Wednesday night examined documents taken from the two Russians. Well - informed sources said they included letters from Christophe Gbenye, leader of the extreme nationalist followers of the late Patrice Lumumba.

These sources said the letters included a request for five billion Congo francs — about $27 million — in counterfiet bills to be used to destroy confidence in the Congo's currency.

Another letter reportedly asked the Russians to investigate links between Communist China and followers of former Vice Premier Antoine Gizenga, whose separatist regime in Stanleyville had Soviet support and recognition.

Gbenye and several Gizengist leaders are among the Congolese politicians who have sought the protection of Brazzaville's left-leaning provisional government.

Dampness May Stall Stocking

Army Engineer Is To Stay for Week

A resurvey of downtown lime caves to determine if they are suitable for stocking with minimal civil defense supplies was made today by an expert from the New York headquarters of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Deputy County Civil Defense Director Charles Arnold, said the engineer, Morton Merron, who had previously inspected the caves, is to remain in the area for a week to determine other possible storage sites, if the caves are found to be too damp.

Used many years, under lease from the city, by Knaust Brothers for the growing of mushrooms, the caves are now closed and the city has a "No Trespassing" sign there.

Damp Since Idle

Congressman Samuel S. Stratton, of the Committee on Armed Services, recently informed Alderman Donald M. Hastings, who heads a special Common Council committee, which has worked for some time on preparation of the caves as fallout shelters, that the caves were reported to be in a wet condition since they are no longer in use.

Arnold, who requested the resurvey some time ago, went with Engineer Merron and City Clerk Walter S. Foster on a tour of the caves. The electricity inside had been shut off and flashlights were used on the tour.

Arnold said he expects a report from the engineer soon after he returns to New York.

Seepage and other dampness were noted on this morning's tour.

Room for 16,000

It has been estimated that the caves, based solely on available space, could accommodate 16,000 people. The total is based on allowing 10 square feet per person.

First supply shipments would include wheat biscuits in cases large enough to provide seven persons with 10,000 calories each. Water containers to be sent would hold 3½ gallons, and the supplies would include sanitary facilities, first aid kits, and radiological detection instruments.

Knaust Brothers had leased the caves for many years from the city at $2,515 a year. Leases were on a five-year basis.

Action Started in 1961

The Freeman first inquired on the feasibility of using the caves for shelters through contract, some four years ago, with officials at Washington, D. C., and Albany. It was revealed in 1960 that they were on record for such use with the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

The Common Council began acting on a local basis in the fall of 1961. Knaust Brothers reported that some 80 acres could be made available.

The caves, with entrance off lower Delaware Avenue, extend some distance westward, and some are under the Hasbrouck Park area. They were mined many years ago by the Newark Lime & Cement Co.

Ship Finds Debris, Likely U2 Wreckage

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—The wreckage of a WU2 spy plane which vanished Wednesday, presumably after a mission over Cuba, was found today in 100-foot deep water in the Gulf of Mexico. The body of the pilot was not in the cockpit.

An air-sea search by Navy and Coast Guard planes and surface craft was continued for the pilot, Capt. Joe G. Hyde Jr. of LaGrange, Ga.

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—The Coast Guard cutter Nemesis today found debris tossing in 60-foot-deep water in the Gulf of Mexico where a U2 spy plane presumably crashed on Wednesday after a mission over Cuba.

From the location of the debris and an oil slick sighted earlier, Capt. Ernest H. Dunlap, chief of staff to the commander of the Key West Navy Base, said, "We're pretty sure" the debris was part of the U2 wreckage.

40 Miles NW of Key West

The Navy, directing the search for the high-altitude reconnaissance plane, announced that the debris was picked up 40 miles northwest of Key West and 180 miles north of the coast of Communist Cuba.

It was in this same area that the U2 piloted by Capt. Joe G. Hyde Jr. of Lagrange, Ga., disappeared.

The Pentagon in Washington said it had nothing to indicate the fate of the pilot. The U2 is a one-man plane.

No Hostile Link

The Strategic Air Command and the Defense Department said there was no evidence that the plane was downed by hostile action. A spokesman at SAC's Omaha headquarters said it was believed the crash was caused by mechanical failure.

A Cuban radio report said merely that a U2 "which might have been on reconnaissance activities over Cuba," crashed in the Gulf. It quoted Washington reports that "it is presumed the plane plunged into the sea due to a mechanical fault."

Oil Slick Spotted

At 10:32 a.m. Wednesday, the plane vanished from radar scopes. Eight minutes, later, another plane spotted an oil slick in the area.

Three Navy air-sea rescue planes joined in the search.

SAC called the plane a WU2, but a Defense Department spokesman said that was only

80 New Teachers Welcomed Here at Dinner by Board

There was a warm welcome for 80 new teachers in the Kingston Consolidated School District at a Board of Education sponsored dinner in George Washington School cafeteria Wednesday evening.

All of the newcomers were introduced by school principals and department heads to the gathering of more than 125 men and women including civic leaders, officers of local service clubs and other organizations of the community.

Stress Teacher Importance

Speakers stressed how much the teaching profession plays in guiding the future citizens of the community and the new teachers were assured that their efforts are appreciated.

Hubert Hoderath, a trustee of the school district, and retired teacher, was chairman of the dinner, the seventh annual welcome sponsored by the Board.

David Kline, president of the board, spoke to the assemblage, also Dr. W. Wendell Hoover, superintendent of the school district. Trustee Howard Fox offered the invocation.

Besides the introductions of new teachers by principals and department heads, Toastmaster Hoderath called upon community and organizational leaders to take a bow, also the members of the press and radio.

He pointed out that they have an important part in the life of the schools.

Tribute to Hoderath

President Kline paid tribute to the vim and vigor of dinner chairman Hoderath in arranging such a successful event.

"It is nice to welcome you new teachers, and meet again with those who have been regulars in the system," he said.

"It is also nice," President Kline said, "to have our civic leaders present displaying an interest in education."

He pointed out that with new construction of schools and their opening and the acceptance of 80 new teachers the school system is progressing without confusion.

Complimenting the administrative and teaching staffs, President Kline hoped that their service would be long and gratifying in the Kingston District

Dr. Hoover pointed out in his

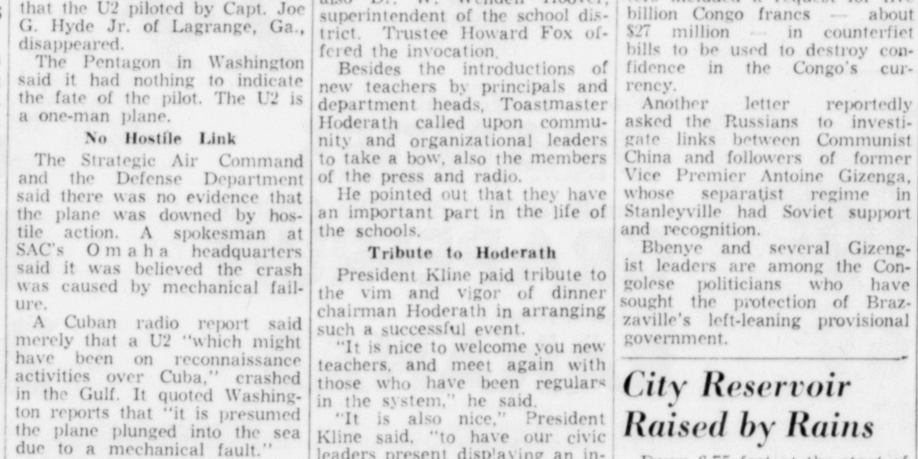
Down 6.75 feet at the start of November rains, Kingston's main reservoir, Cooper Lake, was 4.4 feet below spillway level today.

Last year on this date the reserve supply was 9.4 feet down, but late fall rains brought it much closer to capacity by the end of the year.

Rainfall for the month, as of this date, in the Cooper Lake area was 3.19 inches not counting all of today's downpour.



PRINCIPALS AT TEACHERS' WELCOME—Eighty new teachers in the Kingston Consolidated School District were guests at the seventh annual welcome dinner Wednesday evening in the George Washington School cafeteria sponsored by the Board of Education. At the speakers' table were (l-r) Randolph Siegal, president Kingston Teachers Association; Hubert Hoderath, a member of the Board of Education and former teacher, who was toastmaster; Dr. W. ## Markets Rally After Two Major Firms Suspended

NEW YORK (AP)—Two major brokerage firms—Ira Haupt & Co. and J. R. Williston and Beane, Inc. — were suspended from the New York and American Stock Exchanges after a large commodities customer failed to meet financial obligations totaling more than $18.6 million.

The suspensions, announced in mid-morning Wednesday, sent prices downward in both securities and commodities trading in New York and Chicago before a brisk afternoon rally.

The Chicago Board of Trade reinstated both houses shortly after noon Wednesday.

The suspensions still in force, however, mean that the firms, with offices in several states, can not do business with the public for the time being.

The customer that precipitated the crisis was the privately-owned Allied Crude Vegetable Oil and Refining Co. of Bayonne, N.J. Unable to honor overnight margin calls from the two firms, it filed a petition of voluntary bankruptcy Tuesday in Federal District Court in Newark, N.J.

Allied Crude was the largest commodities customer of Haupt, whose Monday night margin call was for $18 million.

Williston and Beane put out a margin call that same night for $610,000.

A margin call is a demand for more cash or its equivalent and must be satisfied within 24 hours in commodity trading.

The New York exchange said Haupt and Williston and Beane were "in such financial condition that they cannot be permitted to continue in business with safety to their creditors or the exchange."

Scranton Prefers Uncommitted Way To Preserve Unity

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, who doesn't want a battle for his state's delegates to the 1964 Republican convention, meets with Gov. Rockefeller here today.

Scranton said Wednesday he would prefer to take an uncommitted delegation to the convention to preserve party unity in the state. If necessary, he said, he would be a favorite son candidate for the presidential nomination.

Scranton has been mentioned as a potential compromise candidate in the event of a deadlock but has said he believes

Cambodia Is Not Turning Back on West, U.S. Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cambodia has not turned its back on the West in asking a termination of American military and economic aid, Ambassador Mong Kimny said today.

The veteran diplomat said he assured the State Department that Cambodia's chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, has no intention of rushing into the arms of the Communists.

Want to Be Left Alone

"All we want is to be left alone," Kimny said in an interview. "Let our friends judge us by the success or failure of our policies.

"They see a war in South Viet Nam and they see civil strife in Laos while in Cambodia they see we have peace."

Himny has represented his country here for 11 years and played leading roles in the 1954 Geneva conference on Indochina and the 1961-62 Geneva conference which established the neutrality of Laos.

Sihanouk has no plan to ask for military aid from Communist China, Kimny said, but Peking may be asked to send "A few technical experts — not military."

"In our agreement on military aid with the United States there is a provision that Cambodia must not receive aid from any of the Socialist countries," the ambassador said. "In point of fact, this meant we were not neutral."

Won't Seek Peking Aid

For this reason, he said Sihas decided he would not ask for Peking's military assistance because such an appeal "means that Cambodia would then become a satellite of the Soviet bloc."

The United States, in a swift reply to Sihanouk's request for termination of U.S. aid, agreed to undertake talks at once on an orderly withdrawal of U.S. economic and military aid missions.

Kimny said the talks will determine details of the withdrawal which must be completed within six months for the military program.

Viet Change Won't Affect U. S. Policy

HONOLULU (AP) — South Viet Nam's change in government won't affect the United States attitude in the troubled Southeast Asia country, the U.S. State Department says.

Reporting on Wednesday's top - level meeting of diplomatic and military officials in Honolulu, Robert Manning assistant secretary of state for public affairs, said the meeting produced no proposals for major changes in U.S. policy in Viet Nam. He said he sees no changes in economic aid "in the forseeable future."

To Reccommend

The conference drew together Secretary of State Dean Rusk; Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara; Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam; Gen. Maxwell Taylor, head of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Maj. Gen. Paul D. Harkins, head of the U.S. military advisory group in Viet Nam; Adm. Harry D. Felt, Pacific military commander, and other top - drawer civilian and military officials from Saigon, Washington, D.C., and Honolulu.

McNamara left Wednesday night for Washington immediately after the meeting to report to President Kennedy.

Manning's report described the day-long sessions as "more of a discussion than an arrival at a full set of finished decisions."

He said the conference produced "the raw material for recommendations" to be made to the President when McNa-

Doe Ripped Apart By Dogs, Public Help Is Sought

Owners of dogs in the area have been urged to cooperate in the prevention of attacks by dogs on deer in the woods of the county, as the result of a vicious attack on doe Wednesday on Zena Road in the vicinity of Route 212.

Constable Paul A. Senacal of the Town of Woodstock, today told of yesterday's attack by five dogs on a good-sized doe that was ripped apart by the pack of dogs and eventually was destroyed.

"A group of county highway workers saw dogs attacking the deer," Constable Senacal said. "They tried to protect the doe and as they did a large police dog turned on one of the men." The constable said the dogs tore away the hind quarters of the

READY FOR MOTORISTS—Mrs. Grace Wojciechowski, of 230 Third Avenue, clerk in the Ulster County Motor Vehicle Bureau, demonstrates new 1964 plates which will be issued starting Dec. 2 from MVB office in New York State Armory on Manor Avenue. A single plate will be issued to each registrant and must be placed on the rear of each motor vehicle for which it is issued. Chief Clerk Ralph Post of the MVB, stressed today that because of the small quarters in which the bureau is confined pending completion of the county office building, that it will be more difficult to serve applicants. He requested that prospective plate-owners apply for their '64 registration and plates as soon as possible. He urged as many as possible to send in their applications by mail "as early as possible" to avoid the last-minute rush. Post said applications, to be "complete in every respect," must contain registration renewal stub; FS-1 insurance form from applicants' insurance company to show proof of insurance, and properly executed dated check with the exact amount of registration fee. Chief Clerk also stressed that no one will be issued a plate without FS-1 insurance form. Passenger car registrants must have their plates by Jan. 31 to comply with law, while commercial vehicles, including trucks and trailers have Jan. 15 deadline. (Freeman photo)

Hoffa Attorney Is Barred From Federal Courts

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — An attorney preparing James R. Hoffa's defense against jury-tampering charges has been accused of the same offense and barred from practicing in federal courts.

District judges William E. Miller and Frank Gray Jr. signed an order Wednesday night prohibiting Z.T. Osborn Jr. of Nashville from practice in their courts. Officials said the order would bar the lawyer from all federal courts.

The judges accused Osborn, 43, of offering $10,000 through a middleman to a prospective juror if he would prevent conviction of Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union.

Neither Osborn nor Hoffa could be reached for comment.

Hoffa and six other men are to go on trial Jan. 6 on charges of attempting to influence jurors in Hoffa's trial in Nashville last year on charges of conspiring to violate the Taft-Hartley Act. Osborn, one of

$52.88 Per Capita

Ulster Ranks 38 On Expenditures For N.Y. in '62

Ulster County ranked 38th with an average of $52.88 per resident for regular county government expenditures during 1962, State Comptroller Arthur Levitt reported today.

Expenditures throughout the state averaged $57 per resident with Hamilton County the highest with $236 and Dutchess County the lowest with $32.

Ulster County's figure was based on a 1960 U.S. census population of 117,345 with the total amount of $6,204,941.

Levitt's data analyzed a 57-county total of $509 million in expenses for administering regular governmental functions and funding unpaid school taxes. It excluded $198 million of capital outlays, debt service and the costs of revenue producing special activities which are not common to all counties.

Levitt pointed out that the high cost in Hamilton County reflects the high proportion of real property taxes paid on state forest lands. He added that the variation among other counties reflects, to a great extent, the scope of some which administer entire welfare operations in contrast to others which permit cities and towns to sustain responsibilities for some or all welfare programs.

Farm Bureau Would Postpone Hauling Vote

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — The New York State Farm Bureau wants Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman to postpone a current dairy producers' referendum on a proposal to charge farmers for hauling milk in bulk from farm to dealer plant.

William E. Bensley, State Farm Bureau president, said in a telegram Wednesday to Freeman that producers need more time to understand the issues.

Bensley also urged the secretary to revise procedures so that farmers could vote on each amendment separately. Presently, the producers must vote on the entire New York-New Jersy marketing order as amended and a no vote could be interpreted by the secretary as rejection of the entire order.

Th most controversial proposal now being voted on would enable dealers to negotiate with cooperatives and individual producers for a service charge of up to 10 cents for each hundredweight (46.5 quarts) of milk collected from farmers' bulk tanks.

SETBACK FOR ROMNEY

In Michigan weeks ago, the joke was that somehow or other the special session of the state legislature would end by Nov. 15, when the hunting season began.

The legislators made the deadline. But not many Michigan observers were ready to predict they would achieve it at so great a cost to the dominant Republican Party—and Gov. George Romney—as seems to be the case.

The issue in this session was the governor's tax reform program. The outlook was always doubtful for him. He and everybody else knew he had a bitter battle on his hands. Many Republican conservatives had no taste for the two per cent personal income tax which was a key feature of the program.

Yet it was inconceivable to veteran Michigan appraisers that GOP legislators would not give the governor something he could hang his hat on. The lawmakers confounded these veterans by giving Romney exactly nothing.

There was, of course, no surprise in the added fact that Democrats spurned Romney's late-hour bids for support, even though they for years have been trying to ram through similar tax proposals.

The blow to Romney—and to Republicans generally—has to be measured as severe. On his fiscal program he staked his entire claim to leadership. He pointedly asked to be judged by his performance in this field.

Since his party holds a 23-11 edge in the Michigan Senate and a 58-52 margin in the House, the governor felt he had a right to hope for success.

The defeat of his tax legislation could be a heavy burden upon him should he be a candidate for re-election next year. While many assume he will be, he has hinted more than once that failure of his key programs might lead him to refuse another race.

Romney's modest victory margin in 1962 always has been a source of worry for 1964, when President Kennedy would be on the ticket aiding the Democratic choice.

Michigan's Republican lawmakers now have given Democrats the best issue they could hope for. All the Democrats need say is: "Romney was elected on a promise of leadership. He didn't deliver."

Obviously, too, Romney's place as a presidential dark horse for 1964 is seriously affected by this reverse.

Presumably many of the GOP legislators are happy now—hunting in Michigan's woods and fields. While they are out, perhaps they should look for votes. They may need them badly in 1964.

AN EYE ON FALLOUT

One might suppose that there is no further point in maintaining a check on radioactive fallout, now that the treaty ban on atmospheric nuclear tests has gone into effect. A little reflection suggests that this does not hold true. Happily, that is the conclusion by the federal government.

Certain reasons for continuing vigilance come readily to mind. One is that some of the debris from almost 20 years testing is still in the stratosphere and will continue to descend over the next decade or so. Another reason is that the test ban might be violated by one or more of the treaty signers.

It is possible that tests by nations which have not signed—France, and after a time perhaps even Communist China—may add significantly to fallout. Some might also be added, though this is not anticipated, by underground tests. Accidents in the release of nuclear energy for peaceful uses might unexpectedly contribute to the present atmospheric pollution.

That word, "pollution," is the key to even better reasons for continuing to monitor fallout and to study its effects on life. The extent of the danger to human welfare has not yet been determined. It is, quite literally, of vital importance that such a determination be made. The signficance of this is all the more apparent when one realizes that man-made radiation will become more and more a part of life as nuclear energy is increasingly used. The government's decision to continue monitoring and radiation studies is clearly in the public interest.

A poll shows the nation split almost down the middle on the question of the rights and wrongs of the states' right to determine civil rights. Right!

THE PUZZLING PROBLEM OF THE 'DROPOUTS'

It was a high school guidance counsellor speaking on the subject of school "dropouts." He had attended a meeting of guidance counsellors from all over the New England area, held in Hartford, Conn., and he had been impressed more by what he had heard in the corridors than anything that had been said officially.

The official attitude is, of course, that "dropouts" are to be deplored. And the usual answer to the problem is that "there ought to be a law" compelling all 'teen-agers to remain in high school until they have received diplomas. How else, so the official line duns, will 'teen-agers be rendered capable of holding jobs in an economy that requires less and less crude muscle power as it becomes more automated?

"This lumping of all dropouts into one category," said the dissident guidance counsellor, "obscures all the difficulties. It keeps people from breaking the problem down into its components. The truth is that it is not even necessarily a good thing to keep everybody in school until the arbitrary age of sixteen. Some people only learn to become mature through experience. It does no good to force such boys and girls to remain in school, which is a place that perpetuates immaturity by taking away from kids the necessity of making their own decisions.

"The dropout problem," so the dissident guidance counsellor continued, "has two salient phases. There is one group of kids who range from average to excellent in intelligence. They quit school because they are bored, or because their parents don't care, or because they see chances to go to work and earn money. These kids should be kept in school by persuasion, if possible. But if a boy quits school at the age of sixteen for a job or decides to go into the armed forces before he has a diploma, and then discovers through experience in the real world that he wants to go back to school for more education, why should it be considered a calamity that he dropped out as a 'teen-ager? His experience may have been the very thing he needed to bring him to a mature comprehension of the value of an education.

"The second big group of dropouts," so the guidance counsellor went on, "consists of kids who, in the old days, belonged to a category that was never considered to be high school material. In the effort to keep such kids in school after the age of sixteen we now provide all sorts of special courses. The diplomas they get are meaningless—save for the fact that personnel directors in industries tend to accept them at face value and hence may discriminate against intelligent dropouts who might actually do a better job if they could only get themselves hired. The members of the second group of dropouts are the low average boys and girls who, from junior high school years up to the age of sixteen, are carried along in special courses, in shop work and the like, without ever getting any real benefits from the teaching. To them, school has always been a place for failure .They break the machines, they get their hands cut, and they do a lot of harm to the real students by taking up the teachers' time.

"I realize," said the guidance counsellor, "that to analyze the problem is not to solve it. Maybe we need some sort of 'work group' approach to the situation—you know,a revival of the conservation corps idea. In any case, there's no sense in being pressured by the government into accepting the point of view of the employment agencies. They want to keep kids in school just to get them off the job market. This is the truant officer's way of looking at things. The routine truant officer doesn't care whether the school is able to do anything for a kid or not.

"Well, I haven't solved the problem," concluded the skeptical guidance counsellor. "But you can't push on a string, and you can't force anybody to be mature by keeping him from getting his nose rubbed in experience."

Drugs Get Close Scrutiny For Public's Protection

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Not only does the Food and Drug Administration make sure that the foods we eat are safe, clean and properly labeled; it also keeps tabs on the drugs we use. One of the worst abuses is the illegal traffic in amphetamine.

This drug which is legally sold only on a doctor's prescription is bootlegged as "pep pills," "bennies" or "stay-awake pills" to truck drivers and others. Truck stops, drug stores and peddlers when caught bootlegging these pills are subject to heavy fines and the owners to imprisonment.

It is particularly dangerous for truck drivers to take these pills while driving because such side effects as impaired judgment, and temporary mental derangement are common and can cause tragic accidents. In youths these pills are often the first step to juvenile delinquency or experimenting with dangerous habit-forming drugs.

A great variety of drug shipments were seized recently because they made claims that could not be substantiated. A powdered whey was falsely labeled to indicate that it would neutralize stomach acids and promote digestion.

Vitamin products were seized because the label claimed they would do away with tiredness, loss of appetite, lack of energy, coated tongue, tooth decay, constipation, poor eyesight, bloated abdomen, heart disease, painful joints, heartburn, mental depression—"you name it; we cure it." There is no drug or combination of drugs in the world that can do all these things.

The FDA is especially skeptical of alleged cancer cures because none has yet been proved to be effective. Other seizures were made of drugs that were being sold after having been damaged in a fire or after the expiration date had passed. Druggists were fined for refilling prescriptions for nonrefillable drugs.

An antiseptic derived from pine was seized because it claimed falsely to be a cure for burns, ringworm, toothache and sore throat. No mention was made of dandruff or warts. Drugs imported from abroad and not yet given clearance for sale in this country were also withdrawn.

Let it be said to the credit of our legitimate drug companies that when a drug found to have dangerous side effects, the manufacturer not only withdraws the drug but he also sends a note of warning to every physician and retail druggist in the country.

"You Suppose These Spots Will Come Out?"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Every new day's news out of Washington piles up more evidence on the need for complete congressional reorganization. This isn't anything to delay till next year.

It is perhaps unfair to try to make judgments till all sides of every case are heard. But when congressmen of the standing of Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, and Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., become involved in cases of unethical conduct and conflict of interest, idols are shattered.

The charge that Byrnes invested in a mortgage insurance company after being instrumental in getting it a beneficial tax ruling from Internal Revenue Service may impair this blue ribbon congressman's standing as his state's favorite son presidential candidate.

The fact that the now-dismissed Senate majority clerk Robert G. (Bobby) Baker was also a stockholder in this company rubs off on the standing of Byrnes—House GOP Policy Committee chairman and ranking Ways and Means Committee member—even though there is no direct association. Congressmen can't be counsel for constituents.

HAYS EXPLAINS that he had to take a tri-lingual House restaurant waiter to a North Atlantic Treaty Parliamentarians' conference because no other staff assistant was available. Accepting this at face value, it is still a pretty damning indictment of the poor quality of House committee professional staffing.

The questionable part of this junket, however, was not so much the hard-working waiter-translator but the wives of seven of the nine congressmen-delegates. What were they doing on this government transport plane flight?

Speaking of bad staffing, this was what got the House Judiciary Committee in its jam over writing the civil rights bill, now tied up in Rules Committee.

Disregarding President Kennedy's request and Department of Justice recommendations on what constituted a workable bill, the House Judiciary Committee in executive sessions came up with a completely unenforceable bill. If there had been better staff work, this snarl would not have developed.

THE NOW HIGHLY INVOLVED Bobby Baker case gives the Senate an excuse to wander off on another lengthy investigation excursion. The net effect is to distract public attention from more important pending business.

This is a favorite congressional detour. Billie Sol Estes—remember?—involved in government surplus storage and acreage allotment scandals 20 months ago, is finally called to Washington for an appearance before the Senate Permanent Investigating subcommittee. This is long after the courts have passed sentence on fraud charges against him. He is now free on bail, pending appeal. What good can come of the Senate probe?

Also, the investigating committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., is taking yet another swing at the TFX (Tactical Fighter, Experimental) contract and former Navy Secretary Fred Korth's role in its award to a Texas plant.

As long as these probes go on, Congress is working hard. It is—but not on legislation.

Of 13 appropriation bills to finance the government during the fiscal year which began last July 1, only six have been passed. This is bad management by any book.

SEN. THOMAS J. DODD, D-Conn., has withdrawn his stinging criticism of Senate leadership in both parties and apologized for his outburst. But there was much truth in what he said, as the record of this Congress proves.

The real mystery is how much longer the public will put up with this kind of legislative dilly dallying. The only recourse suggested so far is complete congressional reorganization. If not that, let the voters cast their ballots in 1964 against anyone now holding public office.

The theory is that with a thorough housecleaning and a brand new bunch in Washington after January 1965, something might get done that would be in keeping with the times.

Opposition Is Outlined To Grain Credits for Reds

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—If the American people were asked to vote in a referendum as to whether they would like to see the United States government lend money to the Soviet Union to buy wheat—which, in turn, could make possible the shipment of Russian grain to Red China or Cuba—it can hardly be doubted that the verdict of the electorate would be overwhelmingly in the negative.

The Congress of the United States today is considering whether or not to pass a law prohibiting the Export-Import Bank—a U. S. government agency—from guaranteeing the recently proposed transactions for the purchase of wheat by the Soviet Union. So the people's representatives will soon have an opportunity to approve or disapprove the measure.

When the proposal to sell wheat to Russia was first announced, President Kennedy said it was to be a private transaction and "does not represent a new Soviet-American trade policy." But a few days later, it became apparent that a misleading impression had been conveyed. Sen. Karl Mundt of South Dakota, Republican, told the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency yesterday:

"The financing arrangement for these sales to the Communist countries does represent a new departure — the United States government and the taxpaying citizens of this country are assuming full credit risk for these sales. Any loss sustained by the seller of the grain or the banks financing the sales by extending credit to Russia, Hungary, or other Communist-bloc countries is insured by the Federal government through its Export-Import Bank. . . .

"Now I presume the reason that the Export-Import Bank was brought into this transaction to guarantee payment of the obligations assumed by Communist countries for payment for this grain is that no commercial banker or exporter is willing to assume the credit risk of repayment involved in sales to Communist countries. The private exporters and bankers are reluctant to extend their own credit in order to get the profit and income they will receive from these transactions. That is, they must regard the transaction as a bad risk and the Communists as unsafe debtors."

The South Dakota Senator said that, while President Kennedy had declared that American grain would not go to Cuba, the wheat "will simply become a substitute in Russia for the Russian grain which has been promised to Cuba and the other Communist countries," Mr. Mundt added:

"The Cubans will eat Russian grain and the Russians will eat American grain bought from American traders on credits. . . .

"The way therefore, seems to be opened for us to make possible the feeding of our enemies in Cuba, in Red China, and elsewhere even if we were all to agree to the shibboleth that Russia is not an enemy since Russia could use at home the specific bushels of wheat we sell her on U. S. government credit while shipping to our other Communist adversaries the Russian wheat which our American wheat replaces. . . .

"The American people and their Congress were led to believe that this grain sale would be a commercial cash transaction with private traders and bankers assuming any credit risk in return for a profitable sale and an interest-bearing loan."

Pointing out that the President, in his Oct. 9 news conference, has declared that "the grain dealers will take the risks with the private banks," Sen. Mundt said it now turns out that the government itself will assume the risk.

Mr. Mundt is the author of the pending bill which would cover credit extensions on the sale of any products to all Communist-bloc countries. He insists that the passage of the bill would not interfere with the planned sales of wheat and grain to Russia and her satellites, "provided the sales are for cash, for gold or for American dollars, or provided the granting of credit to the Communists is privately extended."

The problem of furnishing economic aid to countries that are potential enemies has plagued the Western allies for man, years. In the period prior to World War II, dictator Mussolini of Italy had invaded Ethiopia, and it was proposed that the United States and other nations place an embargo on all shipments of oil to Italy. The Western allies did not stand together, and the embargo failed for materialistic reasons.

Sen. Mundt, in his speech this week, said: "Unfortunately, desire for profit—sometimes in the form of thinly disguised human greed—has made it difficult for the United States to enforce this policy of restricting trade with the Communist bloc or even to win the support of the foreign countries which we aid with our foreign assistance programs."

It is true that some of the allies of the United States—including those who have been receiving "foreign aid"—have been steadily increasing their trade with Russia and the Communist-bloc countries. This has produced resentment in Congress. The question of trading with the Communist countries is likely to be a major issue in the next several months.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

I was pleasantly surprised to receive a telephone call from Pauline Hommell, authoress and retired school teacher of Saugerties. Her "Teacup Tales" a book of folklore tales of this section of the county is in its second printing, I understand. Her latest, "Class Dismissed" covers her some 43 years of school teaching in various grades and different types of schools. Every little story is complete in itself and about real students. It would make a fine gift.

We talked about various things, like the new shopping center at Barclay Heights, and the changing of shopping from small stores in Kingston and in Saugerties to the shopping centers without parking meters. She told me she is now working on a book on the Civil War, and she hopes to include some folklore in it, and make it enjoyable reading, as heavy war history books seldom are. I would like to see her tackle it, as her father was a Civil War member of the famous 120th regiment.

We also talked about her cat, Oliver, mentioned in her books. Oliver, like other cats takes off once in a while, and will not tell what he has done nor where he has been, just purrs on his return and remains mysterious as cats like to do. Miss Hommell had another cat and she likes dogs and birds and so perhaps she will write some interesting bits on pets she has known. I like her style, and I think she has much to offer of pleasant reading in which she is able to sugar-coat information, as no doubt she did in her popular classes. She told me she usually reads this column, but the day I mentioned her book, she missed it, but Mrs. Edmund U. Burhans, the postmaster's wife there brought it to her attention, for which I thank Mrs. Burhans.

Mrs. Hugh (Elizabeth Burroughs) Kelley, of West Park, is another lady author who wrote a fine book on her grandfather, the famous John Burroughs, the naturalist. I received a note from her dated Oct. 15, in which she writes: "I'm ever so glad that you were able to come to Slabsides and I had the chance to visit with you there. Someday you must come again, and I do thank you for the clippings, which I am pleased to have. It was thoughtful of you to send them and also to make the Slabsides sign for me. With a touch-up of plastic varnish which I can give it, I think it should weather all right."

Mrs. Kelley further writes: "Other visitors came after you had left . . . I also want to show you my grandfather's study at Riverby which, too, has been kept as he left it. This is just off the 9W and easier to reach than Slabsides, as the entrance to Riverby is right on the highway. Also you will have the chance to see my house and portraits I have painted of my grandfather."

This morning another card from Mrs. Kelly, a colored photograph of "Slabsides" (pub. by Griffin Paper Co. of Kingston, N. Y.) In this she thanks me for the nice write-up on Slabsides Day and my impressions of the cabin. "Fortunately a store clerk told me about it and I was able to buy copies of the Freeman. It was Mrs. Edward Johnson who had the station wagon. (she added) Sincerely E. B. K."

On Slabsides Day, there were hundreds of visitors, and I came late in the afternoon, and started to walk up the long steep hill from the main road where most of the cars were parked. A very nice lady gave me a ride in a small lively station wagon, which went like a jack-rabbit up the narrow steep road. This lady's name, I now know is Mrs. Edward Johnson, for which I thank her very much. She lives up that way, it seems.

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) —The state's new program for licensing chiropractors is running two to three months behind schedule.

Continuing opposition of the State Medical Society has been largely responsible for the delay.

No Cooperation

The society, which fought hard against state recognition for chiropractors, has refused to cooperate in any way in the licensing program.

The medical profession holds that the basic principle of chiropractic — that many ailments are the result of spinal pressures that can be eased by manipulation — is unscientific.

The medical society rejected an invitation to nominate a physician for the State Board of Chiropractors.

The Legislature had specified that the board comprise four chiropractors, an osteopath, a physician and an educator.

The four chiropractors and the osteopath have been named and have been at work drafting examinations.

But the Education Department has been unable to find a physician to serve. And an educator is yet to be named.

May Fill Post Friday

An Education Department source told a reporter the Board of Regents, now meeting in Albany, would fill out the board at a session tomorrow.

But, because of the delay, the Board of Chiropractic Examiners is still to organize, although this was scheduled for Sept. 20.

Questions in chiropractic and X-ray were due Oct. 15, but have not yet been completed, reportedly because of the absence of a physician on the board.

The first examination for applicants for chiropractors' licenses were scheduled Dec. 4-7. But they won't be given until February or March.

Uneasy About Absence

Although the four chiropractors and the osteopath are now serving, and questions on chiropractic are being drafted, the Education Department appears uneasy about the absence of a physician.

A spokesman said one function of a medical doctor on the board would be to prevent the chiropractors from drafting questions based on premises "too far out of line with basic and accepted scientific fact."

The law establishing the licensing program specifies that a majority may act. Presumably, the present five members could organize and launch the licensing program without the physician or educator members.

The law also provides that no chiropractors may practice in the state after next Oct. 1 without a license. The Education Department has no plans for asking the Legislature to postpone that deadline.

Won't Ease Matters

Asked whether the absence of a physician had affected the timetable, the Education Department source said "there's no doubt it slowed this thing down tremendously." The department does not want to adopt an examination drafted without the participation of a physician.

The Medical Society of the State of New York has no intention of making things any easier for the board, a society spokesman said.

Dr. Henry I Fineberg, executive director of the society, said the medical profession had not budged in any way from its firm position in opposition to licensing chiropractors.

Fineberg said the society not only had refused to nominate a physician for the board but also had refused to help formulate questions for the examination on the use of X-ray equipment.

But, he said, the society would not take any action against a physician who accepted appointment to the Board of Chiropractic examiners. He put it this way:

"If any doctor is foolhardy enough to take that job, we won't try to stop him."

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It looked like a war and 54,000 Americans died in it, but the fighting in Korea was called a limited or police action.

For 90 minutes Wednesday night NBC's "Project 20" production of "That War in Korea" recalled the inconclusive struggle against the communists in the terrible terrain and tough climate of Korea.

The precise narration and the film were blended carefully to explain the background, recalling the defeats, the suffering and the victories between June 1950 and the ceasefire 10 years ago. And it showed pictures of patrolling the border between South Korea and the Communist north.

It was a fine documentary about war that was not a war followed by a peace that is not a peace.

NBC followed the program with another story about Communist conflict. This was a rather off - beat drama of the "Espionage" series. The scene was set 10 years in the future, and the plot hunt on an action by U.S. CIA agents who deliberately undermined the government of an African nation whose leader is a Marxist.

The play was a muddled, static affair consisting mostly of long impassioned speeches on truth, idealism and integrity by a crusading columnist and a statesman - like U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

"I'm not sure, but I think truth, idealism and integrity lost out to the necessity of keeping the nation from getting into Communist hands.

NBC and the Revue Studios started production in Hollywood this week on what the network calls the first full-length film feature ever made expressly for television — a two - hour action story, "Johnny North," designed to be one of a weekly anthology series next season.

The expensive shows will be written to accomodate interruptions for commercials and to fit nearly into the schedule's rigid time period.

Prof. Frederick C. Barghoorn, released by Soviet authorities this week after arrest in Moscow on espionage chages, will be interviewed on CBS' "Face the Nation" Sunday.

Recommended tonight: Perry Como Show, NBC, 10-11 (EST) — variety show originating in San Francisco, with Nanette Fabray, Victor Borge and Spanish dancer Jose Greco.

Communism Given Wider Foot in Door

Cambodia Cutting U.S. Aid Wider Breach Than Viet Nam

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — For this country South Viet Nam has been a cork in a bottle, preventing communism from spilling into all the Southeast Asian peninsula. The cork just got tweaked.

Cambodia, next door to Viet Nam, has canceled all American help. It will almost certainly now depend more on Red China, giving communism a foot in the door even wider than Viet Nam.

In Heart of Peninsula

Cambodia is in the very heart of the peninsula, bordered by Viet Nam, Laos and Thailand.

Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the Cambodian leader, has said he is convinced the Communists already have won the battle for Viet Nam and feels his own neutral country will eventually fall to communism.

His attitude and his refusal to accept any more American guns or money are a searing reminder the United States is living on borrowed time in Southeast Asia, and perhaps all Asia.

Avoid Showdown

The Red Chinese, trying to catch up with the 20th century and still lacking nuclear weapons, have so far avoided a showdown with this country in Southeast Asia by not intervening directly.

It can only be a matter of time before the belligerent Chinese feel strong enough to try to drive American power and influence out of Asia altogether.

Meanwhile it can use what is obvious and comes handy, like subversion, various pressures and even local Communist guerrillas to avoid a direct confrontation with this country.

For the United States, which for years had its hand full trying to achieve effective anti-Communist resistance in embattled Viet Nam, the years ahead seem sure to hold more critical, dismal, unhappy days.

Chinese Feel the Same

Just this week President Kennedy in Florida said the American states must be ready to go to the aid of any Latin-American government requesting help against a Communist takeover.

When this country feels so strongly about preventing communist penetration of this hemisphere, it is not unnatural the Red Chinese feel the same way about Western penetration or interference in Asia.

What can the United States do?

What it is doing: trying to bolster anti-Communist or neutrar Asian regimes to prevent a Red takeover.

What hope of success can it have in the long run?

Probably only this: that perhaps the Red Chinese Communist government will somehow collapse or that, over the intervening years, it can be induced to let its neighbors work out their desitny in their own way.

At the moment both seem like forlorn hopes.

Council Puts Off Jews, Religious Liberty Decisions

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council today put aside, at least temporarily, controversial declarations on Jews and on religious liberty.

In another major development, the Roman Catholic assembly voted to allow the use of modern languages throughout the sacraments, such as baptism and marriage, without even retaining Latin for key phrases.

Key Issues

The declarations on Jews and religious liberty, part of a schema on Christian unity, had been the key issues in the council's general debate on the schema.

In the discussions that started Monday some prelates said such declarations pertaining to non-Christians did not belong in the schema on Christian unity. Others said they did. Middle East patriarchs warned the declaration on Jews might cause trouble for Catholics in Arab countries.

Today the prelates voted to end the general debate and move on to a chapter-by-chapter discussion of the schema.

The council took a single ballot on closing the general debate and accepting the first three chapters as a basis for further discussion. The vote was 1,966-86.

The action on the sacraments name as the council continued final voting on its schema on liturgy, or public worship.

Last month the assembly approved a provision in the schema providing for the use of modern languages in place of Latin, in the sacraments.

That provision left Latin in key phrases, such as the baptismal formula pronounced by priests: "I baptize thee in the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost."

Amendments framed by the council's liturgical commission were submitted to the council today. The key amendment permitted the use of modern languages throughout the sacraments. It was approved by a vote of 1,848 to 345, with two null ballots.

Turn to Liturgy

Once the amendments were cleared away, the council gave final approval to the liturgy schema's chapter on sacraments 2,107 to 35, with one null.

The schema does not order general use of modern languages, but permits national and regional conferences of bishops to authorize the language substitutions in their own areas.

Wednesday the council gave final approval to the liturgy schema chapter on the Mass. But Latin was retained for the heart of the Mass.

All the provisions will go into effect when the entire schema on liturgy is promulgated by Pope Paul VI as a council decree, probably a week from Friday.

deer and chewed it while the deer was still alive.

the designation for a weather plane version of the sply planes that are still flying over Cuba to keep guard against reintroduction of Soviet missiles in Cuba.

Search for the plane was being directed at Key West by the commander of Navy forces there.

Disclosed 9 Hours Later

SAC said the plane disappeared from land-based radar scopes at 10:32 a.m. Eastern Standard Time. The disappearance was made public about nine hours later.

The only WU2 unit assigned to SAC is the 4080th, operating out of Davis - Monthan AFB, Tucson.

Only last month — on the anniversary of the U.S.-Soviet Cuban crisis — it was disclosed that the high - soaring glider - like U2s were still flying reconnaissance missions over Cuba.

It was photographs taken by U2s which first showed definitely that the Soviet Union was setting up offensive missile bases on the island.

The U2 broke into the news with international impact in May 1960 when U.S. U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers was downed over Russia and imprisoned 21 months.

Kennedy Says

and even a few Republicans, Kennedy can expect to have a more accurate assessment of the reaction of voters in this sprawling segment of the no - longer Solid South to his civil rights proposals, his general legislative program and his handling of world affairs.

The party division over civil rights is illuminated by the fact that Gov. John Connally, who arranged the presidential trip initially, opposes the President's civil rights legislative package.

Both Support It

Johnson and Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., who don't agree on much else, support it. This includes the controversial section to enforce desegregation on businesses serving the public. Yarborough is running hard for renomination. He suspects Johnson would like to torpedo him.

How much the civil rights push will affect the Kennedy - Johnson ticket in Texas next year remains a large and unanswered question. Texas has only slightly less than one-tenth of the 270 electoral votes the President needs to win re-election. He carried the state by only 46,000 of 2.3 million votes in 1960.

Rusk's return will be delayed by a visit with five other Cabinet members to Japan. Lodge is expected to confer with the President after his return to Washington Friday.

A statement on the conference by Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense for public information said in part: "In general, information received at the conference indicates an encouraging outlook for the principle of joint U.S.-Vietnamese policy in South Viet Nam — that is, the successful prosecution of the war against the Viet Cong Communists."

While he was seeing McNamara off Adm. Felt was asked if the phrase "successful prosecution of the war" meant a speedup in activity against the Communist North Vietnamese.

"We hope there is a speedup. There is no reason why there should not be," Felt replied.

Complimenting the school district on its fine new buildings and facilities, Dr. Hoover, however, stressed to the teachers that they are more important because "what you do makes all the difference in the world what happens to the students."

Toastmaster Hoderath said the success of the dinner depended on the work of a staff of helpers whom he thanked for their efforts.

John W. Johnson, director of the school lunch program in the Kingston District, and his kitchen and serving staff were generously applauded.

Glad He Came

Encouraging the new teachers, Mr. Hoderath who came here 38 years ago as a vocational instructor said he found the words true of the late Myron J. Michael, who was superintendent, that Kingston is a fine friendly community with a school system in which harmony exists. "I hope 30 years from now you new teachers will be with us and will be glad you came to Kingston."

Other members of the Board of Education besides those mentioned are Benson A. Krom, Arthur H. Withall, Mrs. Edith Case Murphy, Bernard Singer, Sam S. Pepper and Gifford R. Beal, who has resigned to take effect as of December 12.

Kerhonkson Fire Checked, Prevent Spread of Flames

Several nearby frame homes in the heart of Kerhonkson's residential section were threatened by fire Wednesday night as flames raced through an old two-story barn owned by Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel, Town of Warwarsing.

Occupants of homes in the immediate vicinity of the fire evacuated the residences until volunteer firemen from Kerhonkson and Accord brought the blaze under control. Firemen devoted part of their attention to wetting down the roofs of frame houses.

200-Year-Old Barn

Chief Emanuel Samuels of Kerhonkson was in charge of firemen as they fought the flames more than an hour before the fire was controlled. Sparks from the burning barn fell on nearby rooftops, but alertness of firemen prevented other buildings from being involved in the fire that attracted scores of persons.

The barn reportedly was built more than 200 years ago and at one time was occupied as a casket factory. It was reported that for some time the barn had been used by area residents for storage of furniture and other articles.

Some Contents Destroyed

Mrs. Poppel said used appliances and furniture valued between $1,500 and $1,700 were destroyed in the fire. She reported props and stage scenery formerly used at the Cragsmoor Theater aslo burned in the blaze.

No estimate of the total loss was available. It was reported the fire may have started from spontaneous combustion.

Judge Poppel highly praised the work of volunteer firemen from Kerhonkson and Accord in preventing the fire from spreading to nearby homes.

CE to Aid Needy

The entire Christian Endeavor Society of the Tillson Friends Community Church will be on a scavanger hunt Saturday 1 to 3 p. m. Members will request items of food and monetary contributions. The goal is to provide a Thanksgiving basket for a needy local family. The society hopes to canvass all of Tillson.

Food Sale Saturday

The members of the Tillson Reformed Church Sunday school will conduct a food sale at the church at 11 a. m. Saturday.

The senior class of the Sunday school will be in charge of the sale.

Rising Costs

Records indicate that the average cost for each day a patient spends in the hospital has more than doubled in the past decade, rising from $18.35 to $36.83 per day.

Names In The News

LONDON (AP) —Government programs "far in excess of anything tried in our country up to now" are being prepared, says Great Britain's prime minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home.

The prime minister, whose Conservative party faces a strong challenge from the Labor party in elections next year, said Britain could enjoy the benefits of an expanding economy with a little extra effort by every worker.

Sir Alec made the remarks in a speech televised to the nation.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — President Fuad Chehab of Lebanon has told his Cabinet he doesn't intend to extend his 6-year term, which expires next year, the independent Beirut Daily Al Hayat reports.

The newspaper, said Chehab told the ministers not to press him for an extension, which he regards as unconstitutional.

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Billie Sol Estes, the Texas financier convicted of fraud and theft, is free of a state criminal antitrust charge.

The charge was dropped by Dist. Atty. Dee D. Miller of Potter County, Tex., Wednesday.

Maynard Wheeler, president of Commercial Solvents Corp., also had been charged in the case, but a court refused to allow Texas to extradite him from New York. Without Wheeler, it would have been impossible to prove the charge against Estes, the district attorney said.

Erhard, DeGaulle Talk

PARIS (AP) — Ludwig Erhard met President Charles de Gaulle today for the first time since becoming chancellor of West Germany and the two leaders apparently got along well despite some disagreements.

Arriving by special train from West Germany, Erhard went at once to a meeting with the tall French general who worked with former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to weld a bond of friendship between the two ancient enemy nations.

AFL-CIO Charges AMA With Fraud On Medicare Link

NEW YORK (AP)—The AFL-CIO convention wraps up its official business today after charging the American Medical Association with stooping to fraud to misrepresent labor's support of medical care for the aged.

George Meany was elected Wednesday to his fifth term as president of the 13.5 million-member organization.

The re-election of Meany and the 27 vice presidents of the AFL-CIO followed the announcement of a $400,000 damage suit by a Steelworkers Union official who claims his name was misused in a recording purporting to be a transcript of a union meeting.

The suit, filed in Washington by Paul Normile of Pittsburgh, said he was falsely represented as a tough-talking labor leader who threatened union members if they didn't contribute to the Committee On Political Education (CORE), political arm of the AFL-CIO, to fight for medical care legislation in Congress.

In Washington, President Edward R. Annis of the AMA said the charge of fraud leveled by Meany before the 1,200 delegates was "completely false."

Normile's suit said the record was distributed by the American Medical Political Action Committee (AMPAC), the AMA's political branch, and that it was completely fraudulent.

Robby Blocked Out

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A potential conflict of interest has blocked appointment of Jackie Robinson as chairman of the State Athletic Commission.

An administration source said Robinson's business relationship with boxer Floyd Patterson could raise a question of possible conflict with the chairman's duties.

The Athletic Commission licenses professional fighters and regulates boxing in New York State.

Red Jets Down Iranian Plane

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Three Soviet jet fighters shot down an unarmed Iranian plane 18 miles inside Iranian territory after it accidentally strayed into the Soviet Union, official government reports said today.

Two aerial survey officials aboard the plane were killed and the pilot was seriously injured.

The plane, on a photographic mission in connection with a land redistribution project in northeast Iran, lost its way Wednesday and flew into Soviet territory, the reports said.

The reports said the Soviet jets ordered the plane to land on a Soviet air strip. The pilot, however, found he was short of fuel and flew back into Iranian territory, the reports added.

The three jets then reportedly followed the Iranian plane and fired on it near Darghaz, in Iran. The plane was reported to have caught fire and exploded in the air.

The plane was downed while Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev was in Iran on an official visit.

News of the incident spread through the Iranian Parliament today as Brezhnev addressed a joint session on improved Iranian-Soviet relations. The president said the Soviet government and people are greatly satisfied with the removal of the "darness" from their relations with the Soviet government.

The downed plane was a twin-engine, piston-driven civilian craft belonging to the Iranian Air Taxi Co.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Profit-taking on some of the big gainers of 1963 was resumed today and the stock market slid lower. Trading was active early this afternoon.

American Telephone gained at the start in a resumption of its upsurge and rights offering —but the stock showed a small loss in later dealings.

Key stocks throughout the list took losses of fractions to 1 or 2 points.

Motors, rails, steels, oils, airlines, aerospace issues, office equipment and chemicals were among the losers. Mail order-retail stocks gained a bit. Utilities held fairly steady on balance.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .8 at 277.3 with industrials down 1.3, rails down .7 and utilities unchanged.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down 4.19 at 737.87.

AT&T was nearly a half hour late in opening, then traded on 55,000 shares—a log jam of buyers—at a new high of 140½, up ⅞. This gain was quickly erased by profit-taking.

American Crystal Sugar fell 4 points. General Motors, Jones & Laughlin and Bulova slid about a point apiece.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds were slightly lower.

ROTARY LADIES' NIGHT—Among those in attendance at the Kingston Rotary Club Ladies' Night held at Williams Lake were: Seated, left to right, Mrs. Joseph J. Benjamin, Mrs. Madeline Pettengill and Mrs. Frank D. Hornbeek. Standing, Frank D. Hornbeek, chairman of the dinner committee; Joseph J. Benjamin, president, Kingston Rotary Club; Charles W. Pettengill, president-elect Rotary International; Frederic Snyder, master of ceremonies. Also in attendance were Walter Geiger, district governor, and wife and Robert Kristeller, district governor-elect, and wife.

Rotary World Influence Described by Official

The influence of Rotary "Ideal of Service" among the peoples of the world despite lack of communication in many countries was noted by Charles W. Pettengill, president-elect of Rotary International for 1964-65, at the Kingston Rotary Club Ladies' Night held at Williams Lake.

The theme of the president-elect's address was international and he stressed the world organization's force for the development of good will among the peoples of the world. Notable examples of the reuniting of old Rotary families in Italy, Germany and Japan were cited by the speaker.

Mr. Pettengill, who was introduced to the 150 Rotarians and Rotary Anns by Frederic Snyder, is an attorney in Greenwich, Conn. He has been a member of Rotary since 1932 and has served Rotary International as vice president, district governor, committee chairman and as convention parliamentarian.

The program included a special award presentation to Harry S. Beatty for his assistance in staging the annual Kingston Rotary Club chicken barbecue at the Beatty Farm on Hurley Avenue. In recognition of his contribution to this major Rotary Club project, he was presented with a pictorial review of the barbecue.

President Joseph J. Benjamin also presented a check for $100 to Mr. Pettengill for the Rotary Foundation Fellowship program. The fellowship grants are a part of the world-wide program to help further understanding and friendly relations among people thruout the world.

Hoffa Attorney

Nashville's leading lawyers, helped defend Hoffa in the 1962 trial.

Miller's memorandum said Osborn offered $5,000 through Nashville Policeman Robert D. Vick for the prospective juror, Ralph A. Elliott, if and when he was seated on the jury. The other $5,000 would be paid if Hoffa was not convicted.

Elliott, a member of the district court panel of prospective jurors was said to be a relative of Vick's.

However, Elliott was not contacted and information obtained by Vick was turned over to federal authorities.

Judge Miller said Osborn appeared before the court last Friday, and added:

"His statements and answers on that occasion to the effect that he knew of no plan to improperly influence the jury in the forthcoming Hoffa trial and that he had engaged in no conversation with any person for the purpose of improperly influencing any prospective juror. . . were false and untruthful."

Osborn was one of the lawyers in the Tennessee reapportionment case, in which the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that federal courts could require state legislatures to reapportion themselves.

Bulgaria Sale Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department approved today an export license for the sale of $965,000 worth of soybean products to Communist Bulgaria.

The license was the first involving a shipment of agricultural products to Bulgaria since the government's recent approval of such shipments to Communist bloc nations.

The shipment will consist of soybean oil and cake and oil-cake meal.

Rejects U.S. Claim

GENEVA (AP) — An independent panel has rejected the claim by the United States that it is losing $46 million a year in poultry exports because of the European Common Market's tariff increase, it was reported today.

The five-man panel from Gatt — the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade — reportedly put the annual loss at $26 million.

The Common Market claimed the U.S. loss was $19 million.

Scranton Prefers

there is little chance he would be the nominee.

Rockefeller, only announced candidate, has indicated he will not campaign in states with Republican governors. There has been little open activity by his backers in Pennsylvania.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, considered the frontrunner for the nomination, has said he can't control his supporters' activities in Pennsylvania because he is not an announced candidate.

His backers have been drumming up support to capture the Pennsylvania delegation for him.

Scranton said Wednesday, "I'm not going to ask them (Rockefeller and Goldwater) to do anything one way or the other, nor would I."

He said he wants "to describe for them my own personal opinion of the Pennsylvania political situation, especially with reference to what this means for the best possible campaign for victory in 1964."

"Then clearly, upon hearing my exposition, it is up to them to decide what they intend to do or not to do," he added.

Scranton's scheduled meeting with Goldwater Tuesday was postponed because of the death of Goldwater's mother-in-law.

Abeel St. Teener To See Grand Jury On 2 Burglaries

William Pendell, 16, of 24 Abeel Street, charged with having entered Yallum's clothing store, 20 East Strand, Sunday and the Fowler & Keith hardware store last Saturday, waived preliminary city court hearing today and awaits grand jury action on burglary charges.

Police said Pendell had entered the Yallum store at about 8:15 p. m. Sunday while Elmore C. Yallum, of 19 Highland Avenue, secretary of M. Yallum Sons Inc., was working there. Yallum called police headquarters after hearing noises in the back of the store, and Pendell was reported caught at gunpoint in an alley at the rear of the store by Officer George Dougherty.

A juvenile was reported involved in the burglary at Yallum's and two were charged with having entered the hardware store with Pendell. They were petitioned to children's court.

Some $40 worth of toys and Christmas decorations—reported taken from Yallum's, was recovered. More than $70 in cash, knives, and other items were reported taken from the hardware store, and police said not all was recovered.

Attorney Norman Kellar appeared for Pendell in court today.

Specialist Is Busy When Trading Suspends

Q) "I bought Syntex at 199¼ and two days later it closed at 227½. Next day, publicity apparently hurt Syntex. Trading didn't open until the end of the session, and then the price was 202. How could this happen when the public was not allowed to trade all day? I would like to be reassured that special privileges aren't extended to some people which the public can't take until the price has fallen." J.R.

A) I am very glad to reassure you.

When a stock doesn't open until the end of the day, it means that the specialist has received such a preponderance of buy or sell orders overnight that he has difficulty in match them. During such a period, no one has any special privilege, and no transactions whatever are made on the floor of the Exchange.

Often, the specialist himself must take a position in a stock to maintain an orderly market. He operates under close Exchange regulation, and his function is rarely abused.

Q) "In 1946 I bought 10 shares of Quaker States Oil Refining at 22⅜. Although it has paid dividends, it has not grown in price in line with my other holdings. These include American Telephone, Corn Products, General Motors, and Long Island Lighting. Should I sell Quaker States and add to any of my present holdings?" R.C.

A) I congratulate you on an excellent list of stocks.

If growth is your objective—as I assume it is—Quaker States does not belong in your portfolio. Quaker States is an excellent income issue, has just declared an extra dividend of 25 cents a share, and has reported a 43 per cent gain in earnings in the third quarter. The shares recently sold at an all-time high, but their gain since 1946 amounts to only 60 per cent during a period when the Dow-Jones Industrial Average has risen 250 per cent.

I advise you to switch your Quaker States into more Corn Products.

The New York Telephone Company played host Tuesday evening to 45 teachers from school districts throughout the Mid-Hudson area. The meeting which was held at George Washington School, provided a preview demonstration of the 1964 Bell System high school science teaching aids.

This new program called "Speech Chain" involves the physics and biology of speech. The material available includes an instructional booklet, film and experimental kits for use in high schools throughout the nation.

The program was introduced by J. B. Lebherz, Kingston District manager for the New York Telephone Company. The demonstration was presented by John Pedersen, a telephone company engineer from the Albany area.

Officer Says Some Lawyers Teach Juveniles to Lie

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — A Binghamton police officer has charged that some lawyers in his city have taught juveniles to lie on the witness stand.

Capt. E. Francis Carns, director of the Binghamton Police Department's Juvenile Bureau, said Wednesday night that "most of the Binghamton attorneys I deal with in Family Court are wonderful, except for some who will put a boy on the stand and teach him to lie."

Carns was a member of a panel which discussed protective and correctional services of New York State's recently organized Family Court system. The forum for the discussion was the 64th annual meeting of the New York State Welfare Conference here.

Berwyn F. Mattison, director of the American Public Health Association, told the conference that public health agencies have delayed too long in helping to solve the problem of alcoholism.

But Mattison said the association has initiated some field control problems to guide the agencies in this area.

The three-day conference ends today.

CORNY, BUT IT WORKS—As a solution to the perennial shortage of grain cars at harvest time, one of Indiana's largest grain handlers is using dump-bottom cars, which are usually reserved for loads like coal and stone. Baltic Mills seals the bottoms of the cars with heavy paper gaskets, fills them with shelled corn, then covers the corn with heavy sheets of plastic, anchored down by wire cleats over the edges of the cars. Each car holds 2,500 bushels of corn.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — You've blown out a lot of candles on a lot of birthday cakes if you can look back and remember when—

It was a compliment to be called square.

Wives tried to look their best at breakfast, so husbands would go off to work with a pleasant mental picture of them.

It was widely predicted that the end of prohibition would wipe out gangsterism in America because there would be no other major source of profits for criminal mobs.

Only bankers and big businessmen wrote checks. Ordinary folks paid their bills in cash or stood in line at the post office to buy a money order.

The streets of Manhattan were alive with the tinkling music of hurdy gurdies, and the monkey doffed his hat if you gave him a nickel.

It was romantic to snuggle with your best girl on the top front seat of a doubledeck Fifth Avenue bus. These lumbering vehicles also were the delight of sightseers, but the Irish conductors hated to climb the stairs for the fares.

Every workman's lunch pail carried a liverwurst sandwich and a slab of homemade apple pie.

A juvenile delinquent was a boy who spent all his coins looking at the girlie machines in the penny arcade—and then bragged to all the other neighborhood kids how much he knew about women.

If you said a bad word, your mother promptly washed your mouth out with soap instead of worrying about whether she should take you to a psychiatrist.

Saloons had separate entrances for the ladies, who always drank in a back room.

It took more than your first pair of long pants to prove you were a real man. You also had to be able to light a kitchen match on the seat of them.

SHOKAN NEWS

SHOKAN — Mr. and Mrs. George Bobell, Creek Locks, were Sunday callers at the home of Mr. Bobell's sister, Mrs. Lester Leone. The couple recently returned from a vacation sojourn with Mrs. Bobell's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Bodette, Birmingham, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lee spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bush of Kelly Corners.

Hundreds of deer hunters' cars passed through the village Monday evening between the hours of 5 and 7. The exodus of nimrods from the mountains was reminiscent of the heavy eastbound traffic over Route 28 on a weekend Sunday during the skiing season.

Abram Bronstein, Catskill storekeeper, was a Sunday caller in the village center.

Joseph Elefant, Ashokan, observed his 57th birthday Nov. 15. Elefant and his wife, the former Rose Cohen, have three children: Ralph and Betty who live in California, and Louis, an Onteora Central School student.

Harry Sylvanus and son, Harry Jr., Beacon, were in town recently. The elder Sylvanus has had exceptionally good luck at fishing the Ashokan Reservoir this season, his catches having included several trout around the 20-inch mark.

Deeds to Mountain Top property reportedly have been received at clerk's office from Bessie Shroker and Anna Hoornbeek, Kingston, to William Ahrens, Freeport, for land in Town Hunter, Greene County.

Orpha Van Kleeck, Route 28, who entered Benedictine Hospital recently, observed her 91st birthday last Oct. 20.

Onteora School Units will close 4:30 p. m. Nov. 27 for the Thanksgiving Day recess.

Jerry Francis and family reportedly have moved from Shokan to Newburgh where Francis has employment.

News items in late October, 15 years ago: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weisenstein left town for New York last week. New owners of their place on Reservoir Road, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tokats, are continuing the restaurant business started by the Weisensteins last year (present H. DeWitt place) . . . Frank Waters, Marbletown Road farmer, was a recent caller in the hub of the reservoir country. Waters, a recognized authority on work teams, did considerable hauling and timbering here in his younger days . . . Callers in town Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. H. Sorensen and two children of New York. Sorensen, a nephew of Rudolph Rossmann, Shokan's largest boarding house, has spent a number of vacation periods at the Algot Olson camp along the Ridge Road. The couple like Shokan and hope to buy property here for a permanent home.

Trooper Contends Revised Test Is Unfair as First

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A state trooper who won a court judgment in his contention that a promotional examination was not truly competitive, says a revised test also is unfair.

Trooper John H. Donohue Wednesday was granted a court order directing the State Police superintendent to show cause why the new regulations governing the sergeant's examination should not be declared null and void.

The order is returnable Nov. 27 in State Supreme Court.

Donohue charged in his first suit that State Police officials had refused to promote him to sergeant for subjective reasons.

State Supreme Court Justice Ellis J. Staley upheld Donohue's argument last February and ruled that an examination the trooper took was "completely out of the competitive class."

The State Police later prepared a new examination.

John H. McCaddin, attorney for Donohue, said Wednesday the revised promotional examination represented "a reaffirmation of the superintendent's intention to maintain personal control of promotions within the State Police by the establishment and manipulation of heavily weighted subjective factors..."

The superintendent is Arthur Cornelius Jr.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Shoppers for Thanksgiving turkeys this weekend will find ample selection at prices about the same as a year ago.

Some shops are offering large toms as low as 27 or 29 cents a pound.

Prices are more commonly in the 35-cent range, however.

There is a wide selection among other main courses.

Beef features include top and bottom round roasts, chuck roasts, round steaks and rib roasts.

Pork attractions include shoulders, smoked hams, loin roasts and pork chops.

Broiler - fryers and roasting hens are giving turkeys a run for your money in many shops.

Egg prices are generally lower than a year ago.

Vegetable attractions include potatoes, brocolli, cabbage, cauliflower, celery, lettuce, onions, peppers, radishes and squash.

The fruit star continues to be the apple, but oranges, avocados, bananas, grapefruit and cranberries are also good buys many places.

Gain Compliments

Sleeveless dresses are a popular holiday fashion. But if your upper arms are heavy, avoid the bare-arm look and choose a long-sleeved dress. You'll rate more compliments.

Labor Is Asking 90-Day Law on Newspaper Deals

NEW YORK (AP)—The AFL-CIO called Wednesday for a Justice Department investigation of all newspaper mergers or suspensions.

It adopted a resolution asking Congress for a law requiring newspaper publishers to give the Department of Justice 90 days notice of any contemplated merger, consolidation, or acquisition.

The resolution asked that the Justice Department prosecute any case in which it finds the merger or suspension of newspapers violates antimonopoly laws.

Arthur Rosenstock, president of the American Newspaper Guild, said that three newspaper groups dominate more than 50 per cent of U.S. nwwspaper circulation. He said the groups are Hearst, Scripps-Howard and Newhouse.

The resolution would require publishers to give advance notice to all labor organizations involved in a proposed merger, suspension or sale of a newspaper.

The resolution said that when there are claims that a newspaper is being disposed of because it is losing money, the Justice Department should be authorized to ask for a court-appraiser to determine its fair market value.

Then, under the resolution, the newspaper would be thrown open for bids from prospective purchasers willing to pledge continued publication. The publisher would be required to accept a bid equal to the value set by the court-appointed appraiser.

Shop Talk

When you shop for clothes, keep in mind the facts that they should fit well and feel comfortable. If a skirt is skintight, it's not only restraining, but it's not even fashionable.

Best Apron Forward

The smart homemaker will keep a freshly-laundered coverall apron on hand in the kitchen and put it over the work-soiled clothes when the door bell rings.

Why We Say--

A Maryland farmer wrote to Secretary of the Treasury Samuel P. Chase in November, 1861, that, "since this is a Christian country, some reference to the Deity should be on its coins." "In God we Trust" was authorized for coins from that time on.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Hardest for many Americans to comprehend are the government figures on personal income and the cost of living.

More often than not the government agencies report that personal incomes have risen to a new high and that the cost of living hasn't budged much.

Both Could Be Right

Millions of citizens usually react by grumbling that they sure haven't noticed any gains in their incomes while the bills seem to get a little higher month after month.

Both the skeptical citizens and the government statisticians could be right.

Somebody's income has gone up—enough of the somebodys to change the totals for the nation.

And costs of some things you may not be buying just now may have gone down enough to offset rises in the prices and fees and fares and rents you may be paying. And so the government's consumer price index rises little, if at all.

The government has just announced the biggest monthly increase in personal incomes in 18 months—$3 billion at an annual rate. But the Department of Commerce reminds civilians that one-third of that boost is due to a military pay raise.

The rest is distributed among increased payrolls in a number of factories in many industries, and in state and local government offices, along with some gains in rents, dividends and interest. Higher employment totals also swell incomes a bit for those in the selling, financing and servicing endeavors.

The impressive record now tops $470 billion on an annual rate, 5 per cent up from the previous year.

Spending Intentions

Closely tied to the rise in personal incomes perhaps are the spending intentions the Census Bureau reports.

It says 4.5 per cent of the 17,500 families it questioned last month plan to buy a new car in the next six months, compared to 4.1 per cent a year ago, and 21.5 per cent plan to buy at least one household appliance within six months, compared with 20.7 per cent in October 1962. Those intending to buy a new house within 12 months edged up to 2 per cent from 1.9 per cent a year earlier.

Capital News in Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

SMOG ON THE HILL: Sen. Hubert Humphrey put a stethoscope to Congress and diagnosed that it is a victim of "a civil rights smog."

Humphrey, assistant Senate Democratic leader, said that once the battle over civil rights legislation is over, "the problems of managing the Congress will be over."

"Until that day," he warned Wednesday, "leaders can implore and deplore. . . but there will not be much improvement."

His implication was that Congress' wheezing pace is caused by maneuvering of Southern foes of civil rights legislation—many of them entrenched in key posts in Congress.

With time running out, there's little likelihood the measure will be acted on this year.

DISARMAMENT: The House approved Wednesday by a 252-133 vote a bill authorizing $10 million a year for the U.S. Disarmament Agency.

This is the same amount the Senate approved but only two-thirds of what the agency had requested.

Disarmament Agency chief William Foster had testified that such a slash in the agency's funds would mean a 40 per cent cut in its research contracts.

The bill goes back to the Senate where adoption is likely.

ALABAMA CHARGES: The Justice Department has challenged Alabama officials to back up charges that department lawyers had concealed dope addicts, consorted with sex perverts, contributed to the delinquency of minors and fomented insurrection.

The allegations were communicated to the department in a telegram from Robert D. Wilkinson, foreman of the Dallas County (Selma, Ala.) grand jury investigating the Justice Department's activities in connection with racial strife in Alabama.

The grand jury plans to visit Washington Monday and question Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Asst. Atty Gen. Burke Marshall, chief of the department's Civil Rights Division, said in a telegram to Wilkinson and Circuit Solicitor Blanchard McLeod that "it is hard to believe these charges are seriously intended since no names, dates or other identifying data are given."

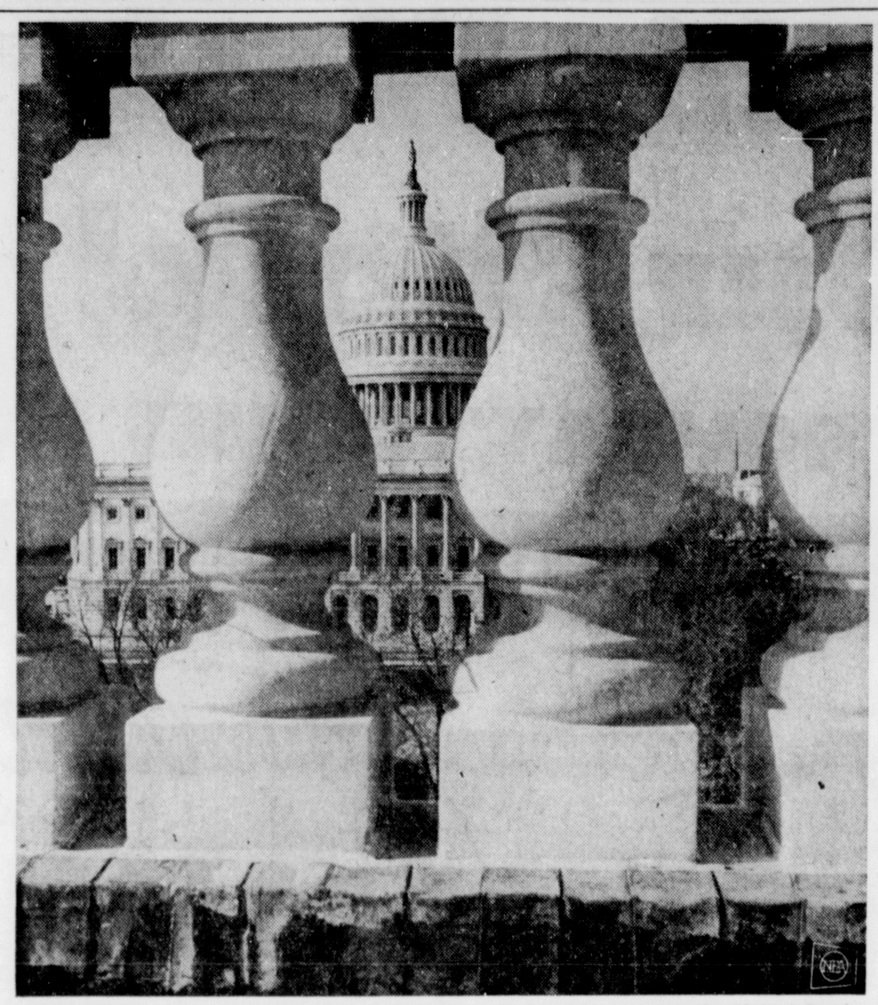
N. Y. Democrats After $1.5 Million For '64 Campaign

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York State Democratic organization has turned the clock ahead and opened a drive for a record $1.5 million war chest a year before the presidential election.

The organization traditionally has waited until the spring or summer of a presidential election year to start a concerted drive for campaign contributions. Its top success in any year has been about $500,000 for national, state and local candidates.

Democratic State Chairman William H. McKeon announced Wednesday that 35,000 letters soliciting contributions had been mailed to party officials and workers.



NEW VISTA — Seemingly photographed from every possible prospect, the United States Capitol is a constant challenge to photographers. Here, in a study of curve and line, the Capitol is seen through railing atop the Longworth Building.

Jersey Housewife Bids $12,590 at State Yacht Sale

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—"I did it just as a fun thing," says a New Jersey housewife who made a $12,590 bid and today was the owner of Inspector II, the state's luxury yacht once used by Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The State Office of General Services said Wednesday Mrs. Polly Ann Halsted of Cresskill, N.J., outbid 78 other interests, including a hotel in Monte Carlo, Monaco.

Is Surplus Property

The yacht had been declared surplus state property.

"My tosh, I haven't even talked to my husband about his yet," Mrs. Halsted told a reporter in a telephone interview Wednesday night.

"It was all a joke," she said. "We were all together one night, talking about the state selling the boat and I thought this might be fun."

Didn't Dream It

"But I never dreamed it would go for that."

She said she had never seen the 38-year-old yacht, which sits in a boatyard in nearby Waterford.

Her husband, a doctor at an Englewood, N.J., hospital, telephoned the Office of General Services late Wednesday for confirmation of his wife's bid. The Halsteds have five children.

The yacht was sold on an "as is, where is" basis. Under terms of the sale, Mrs. Halsted must remove Inspector II from its berth by Nov. 29.

Cost Was $30,000

The yacht was purchased by the state in 1930 for $30,000.

Roosevelt, an amateur sailor and one - time assistant Secretary of the Navy, sailed the yacht several times on the cross-state Barge Canal system during his second term as governor, 1930-32.

Roosevelt laughlingly referred to the trips as "official inspectors" and maintained that the speeches he made at communities along the way were purely "non-political."

Fire Official Is To Rule on Blast That Killed Three

MONTREAL (AP) — Fire Commissioner John McDougall says he will decide next Tuesday whether an explosion that killed the wife and two daughters of Roland Haumont was accidental or criminal.

It was learned Wednesday that two government prosecutors and two detectives from the Montreal Police Department's Criminal Investigation Bureau will visit Binghamton, N.Y., in connection with the explosion.

Haumont, 42, is an assistant professor of French at Harpur College in Binghamton. He was in Montreal to transfer his family to Binghamton when propane gas tanks behind their home exploded on the night of Oct. 20.

McDougall's verdict will be submitted to the Quebec attorney - general's department for any further action. A coroner's inquest into the deaths is expected to start after the fire commissioner returns his verdict.

McDougall ordered the inquiry, saying that the explosion occurred "under mysterious circumstances."

Rochester Town Budget $124,321

With only one item amended, the final budget for 1964 was fully approved by the Town of Rochester Board members at the Nov. 7 meeting. The Youth Commission appropriation was set at $500, to be used for the regular swimming program at the Kerhonkson School pool. One half of the cost of this program is returned to the town in state aid. In 1963 the appropriation for the Youth Commission was $1,200. The total of the final budget is $124,321.98, which is $350 less than the preliminary budget represented.

The need of continuing the Bookmobile Service at an expense of $1250 per year to the taxpayers, was discussed in length. Since there is a Public Library within the new Rondout Valley Central High School which has over 6,000 books, assured speedy service of 5 to 6 days in securing requested books, daily hours for the public and an offer of evening hours two nights a week, some taxpayers present at this meeting were of the opinion that the Bookmobile appropriation is an unnecessary expense and that it amounts to paying twice for Library Service.

Robert McKinnon, an attorney representing Mr. Jazinsky who owns property off the Upper Cherrytown road, presented the need for an old road leading into his client's property to be declared a town road, so poles for electric can be installed by the utility company to his land. Justice Abe Smith (R), said that the road is abandoned by the town for some time and has grown up and become impassable.

A motion was passed that the town pay for repairs within the limits of the estimated damages to the truck of William DiPasqua, when it was decided that a faulty town bridge in the Tobasco area was the cause.

The reappointment of Sam Reavin to the Planning Board was unanimously approved.

Francis Hasbrouck asked for the appointment for office of dog enumerator.

1963: Half the world eats...

...half the world goes hungry

Hard to believe, isn't it, that today one half to two thirds of the world's population lacks sufficient food? It is a fact, though, and a frightening one.

But there is a world program underway to free these millions from the threat of hunger and malnutrition. It is called the Freedom From Hunger Campaign and America, along with more than 100 other countries, is participating in it. You, too, are doing your share when you contribute to an accredited group that provides overseas relief. Such groups, members of the American Council of Voluntary Agencies for Foreign Service, have joined in support of the Freedom From Hunger Campaign.

The program is aimed at arousing world-wide interest, providing self-help, developing research and action projects, all designed to increase food production and improve nutrition among the many developing countries.

By more and continued aid to our religious or other private organizations, we, from the part of the world that eats, can help those in the half of the world that goes hungry. Support the Freedom From Hunger Campaign.

America's Overseas Relief Groups are united behind the FREEDOM FROM HUNGER CAMPAIGN

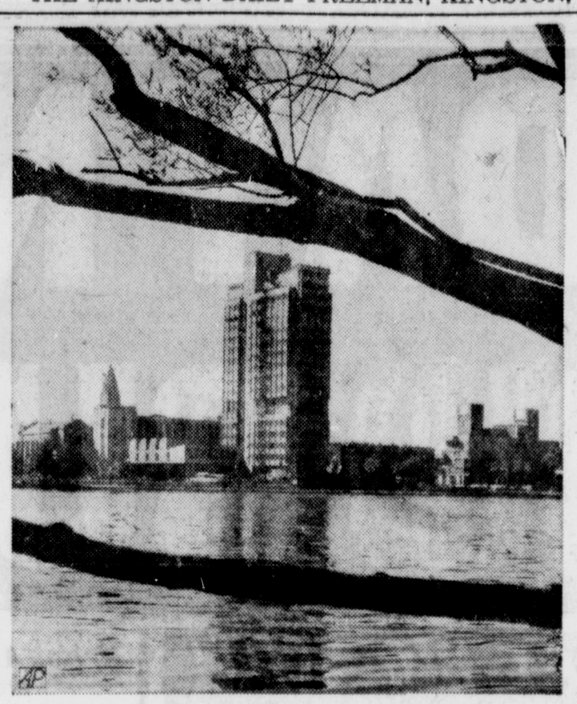
Wardrobe of Wealthy Woman Brings $35,000

CHICAGO (AP) — The personal wardrobe of one of Chicago's wealthiest women — an estimated 25,000 pieces of apparel — has been sold at public auction for $40,000.

The wardrobe, owned by the late Mrs. Violet Bidwill Wolfner, was sold at a three - day auction by order of Cook County Probate Court.

The clothes included more than 1,000 dresses — with a purse to match each dress — some 500 coats and 1,500 pairs of shoes. The highest price paid was $1,250 for a full length mink but many dresses and coats sold for 50 cents.

Mrs. Wolfner was 62 when she died in Miami Beach, Fla., in 1962. She left an estate of $3.1 million to her two adopted sons. Her first husband was Charles W. Bidwill, wealthy sportsman.



NEW LANDMARK — This 19-story structure is a newcomer to the bank of the Charles river in Boston. It will house Boston University's Schools of Law and Education.

Convicted Man Takes Stand Against Woman

LYONS, N.Y. (AP) — Wesley E. Nash Jr., tried for murder but convicted of assault in the shooting of a Prattsburg farmer, testified at the first-degree murder trail of the farmer's widow that he shot her husband in return for a promised $1,500.

Nash, 20, also of Prattsbug, was a surprise witness for the prosecution Wednesday in the trial of Mrs. Stella Klymiuk, 35.

Nash, testifying against the advise of his attorney, said on the witness stand that Mrs. Klymiuk offered him $1,500 to kill her husband, Jurko, and that he shot him twice.

Jurko Klymiuk, 45, was found shot in the back of the head Nov. 8, 1962.

Nash was tried by a Steuben County court and convicted of first-degree assault, one of eight verdicts the trial judge said the jury could return. He was sentenced to 5-10 years in prison.

Nash did not testify at his own trial.

Mrs. Klymiuk is being tried by State Supreme Court in Wayne County on a change of venue from Steuben County.

Administration Lacks Atom Leadership: Gov.

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller accuses the Kennedy administration of lacking leadership in adapting atomic energy to peacetime uses.

Rockefeller spoke Wednesday night at a dinner meeting of the Atomic Industrial Forum and the American Nuclear Society. Both groups have been meeting here this week.

The New York governor said federal research and testing programs should be accelerated and expanded "to provide to the Atomic Energy Commission" all of the information it requires to make the challenging licensing judgments now being posed of it; and so to demonstrate to the public the degree of safety it may expect from the full development of atomic power."

In the U.S., outbreaks of grasshoppers are most common in the northern Great Plains, where there are more than 100 varities.

Keating Presses For Law Against Sports Events Fix

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., urged the House today to seal some of the geographic loopholes through which gamblers are able to fix sporting events and corrupt athletes.

In a statement for the House Judiciary Committee, he called for passage of a Senate-approved measure he sponsored to make it a federal crime for gamblers to use interstate facilities in a sports bribery attempt.

Sports bribery cannot be curbed effectively by local law enforcement alone, Keating said, because gamblers frequently use interstate facilities.

The legislation before the subcommittee, Keating said, would permit federal authorities to move against interstate conspiracies beyond local control and "make it impossible for the manipulators and vipers to slip through geographical loopholes."

Will Probe Crimes

SAIGON, Viet Nam. (AP) — South Viet Nam's new revolutionary government will establish a commission to investigate crimes committed during former President Ngo Dinh Diem's tunure of office.

The commission will be instructed, an announcement said "to investigate all crimes committed by private persons or agents of public services who took advantage of their official position to arrest and detain people unlawfully, torture and rape, or murder nationalist elements opposed to the Diem dictatorship."

The period to be investigated will run from Oct. 26, 1955, when Diem was given supreme power by a referendum, to last Nov. 1, when he was overthrown by a military coup.

Report Hepatitis Is Contracted by Hudson Student

A case of infectious hepatitis has been contracted by a third grade student at St. Mary's School, Hudson, according to Columbia County Health Commissioner Dr. G. Paul Kenyon.

Parents who thing their child may have had close contact with the patient, should consult their physician immediately to determine if the contact was serious enough to warrant inoculation, Dr. Kenyon said.

He emphasized that only the one case has been reported to his office. An injection of gamma globulin can prevent the disease if given soon enough after exposure. Dr. Kenyon noted that incubation period for infectious hepatitis is three to four weeks.

Only object in the White House today that belonged to President Thomas Jefferson is a bronze inkstand.

Nights of Pain, Fitful Slumber, Anguish

Cleveland Girl, 14, Bearing Up Well After Leg Amputation

By DORIS O'DONNELL
The Plain Dealer

CLEVELAND (AP) — Christine Simko, battling to face each dawn with a smile, finds her days and nights filled with pain, fitful slumber and anguish.

Variety of Moods

In the first interview with Christine since her right leg was amputated 11 days ago to halt a cancer, she displayed a variety of moods — each overshadowed by tears.

"I'm so weak," the 14-year-old girl sighed, struggling to adjust her position by grappling for a metal triangle over her bed.

Frustration in reaching the bar brought tears of anger and defeat. They splashed onto the pillow from her gray - blue eyes.

Rejects Mother's Help

Her mother, Mrs. Lily Simko, who visits daily at her bedside, offered help the girl rejected. Moments later when a social service worker tried to adjust a pillow, she cried: "Don't touch me."

Mrs. Simko explained Christine's nerves are still raw and "she can't stand to have anyone touch her bed."

However, during the anguish of waiting for a pill to alleviate the pain, Christine welcomed and clung to the cool hands hospital aides pressed to her hot forehead.

Doctors at Cleveland Metropolitan General Hospital report the pain and discomfort Christine is enduring is "normal." Her crying is "not any more than we have a perfect right to expect," a doctor said.

Her mother says she still doesn't understand why the amputation was necessary. She said she had Christine in the hospital in August and September and signed forms for tests but "nothing was done, and the court released her to me."

Peculiar Situation

Mrs. Simko, an English war bride, was divorced and has supported Christine and a younger child, Michael, with relief payments.

Dr. Robert W. Hopkins, who performed surgery on Christine, said she "has borne up far better than expected under the stress and discomfort of amputation."

While she is uncomfortable and at times has a peculiar sensation in the leg that isn't there, she has shown remarkable recovery," the doctor said. He said Christine's pain is "peculiar burning sensations" a little different from most pain.

"How long will it last cannot be said," he added.

Brooklyn Hunter Killed in Woods Near Monticello

A 17-year-old Brooklyn hunter was fatally wounded Wednesday morning, while hunting deer in the Curry section of Sullivan County about 20 miles north of Monticello.

Ferndale State Police identified the victim as Edward Davidson. He was hunting with two companions, Patrick Cummings, 16, of Brooklyn, and Arthur Lawhorn, 30, of Springfield, Va., at the time of the shooting.

According to investigators, Frank Keller, 65, of Grahamsville told troopers he was stalking a deer and fired a shot into the brush when he saw something move. A slug from Keller's high-powered deer rifle hit Davidson's hip. The youth apparently bled to death before medical aid could be summoned.

Troopers said Davidson and his companions were hunting without licenses. Cummings and Lawhorn will face that violation of the State Conservation Law, authorities said.

Dutchess Woman Hurt in Crash, Flames Ruin Car

A 24-year-old Dutchess County woman was injured at 2:20 p. m. Wednesday after her car hit a power pole on Route 9 at North Cross Road, Staatsburg, and burst into flames.

Rhinebeck state troopers reported Dolores Campbell, Staatsburg, was driving north along the highway when the car accelerator stuck. She lost control as the vehicle careened off the pavement and hit the pole.

The driver was ejected from the vehicle. She suffered contusions and abrasions of the left temple. A small boy, who was in the car at the time, apparently escaped injury.

Troopers said volunteer firemen from Dinsmore Hose Co., Staatsburg, in command of Lieut. Harry Raphelson responded to a call and extinguished the flames that destroyed the automobile. Troopers credited the quick action of the volunteers in preventing the gasoline tank of the car from exploding.

Starved for Deli Food

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—A Cornell University freshman, starved for the specialty of a New York City delicatessen, instigated a 200-mile airlift of assorted sandwiches Wednesday night.

Peter Levin of New York City, the organizer, and 44 other freshmen raised $115 and telephoned an order for 75 sandwiches to the Stage Delicatessen in New York's theater district. The order was filled and dispatched for midnight delivery to Ithaca.

Levin said he had organized the airlift because, while the university cafeteria food was edible and life-sustaining, "nothing can compared to New York City food."

2 Hunters Fined For Violations

Charged with violations of the State Conservation Law, two hunters were booked Wednesday afternoon by Leeds State Police on complaint of game protectors.

Troopers said Nelson Edwin Ohl, 27, of Windham, was accused of altering a big game license. He pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace Timothy Conway, Town of Durham, and was fined $50.

Frank Maggio, 31, of Center Reach, L. I., was charged with failing to fill out a party permit. He appeared before Judge Conway and was fined $10 after admitting the violation.

College Chaplain To Address Area Teachers Sunday

The Rt. Rev. Charles Hugo Doyle, resident chaplain at Ladycliff Liberal Arts College for Women, Highland Falls, will address the Catholic teachers of the Kingston area here on Sunday at a breakfast in Knights of Columbus Hall. His topic is "How to Be a Remembered Teacher."

RT. REV. C. H. DOYLE

Monsignor Doyle was born in Kingston, Ontario, Canada where he attended St. Mary's School and Regiopolis College. Completing his studies at the Grand Seminary, Edmonton, Alberta, and St. Augustine's Seminary, Toronto, he was ordained to the priesthood in 1928.

After two years missionary work in the Edmonton Archdiocese, Monsignor Doyle was made pastor of Blessed Sacrament Church at Wainwright, Alberta. Poor health made it necessary for him to come to the United States where he was first an assistant at the parish in North Tarrytown. Shortly after Monsignor Doyle received his present post as chaplain and instructor at Ladycliff College where he has been for many years.

Monsignor Doyle is well known as the author of many books, the best known being "Cana Is Forever" which has gone through many editions and has been printed in paper-back form. The perception and wit of this book established Monsignor Doyle's reputation as both an author and expert on marriage. Other of his books have been "Blame No One But Yourself," "Sins of Parents," several books on popes and the papacy, as well as books of guidance for priests and religious.

With his reputation as an author it was only natural that Monsignor Doyle be called upon to lecture and here his talents were as well received as they were in his books. He has been in much demand and has spoken in many areas, including several times around Kingston.

The breakfast at the Knights of Columbus Hall will be preceeded by a Communion Mass at St. Mary's Church at 9 a. m. No tickets are required at the breakfast but reservations are to be made through St. Mary's Rectory by mail or telephoning.

Mitchell Is New Gateway Director, Contract Gained

It was announced today by Gateway Industries, Inc., that a new contract has been received and officers elected for the ensuing year.

New on the board of directors is Thomas J. Mitchell, secretary of the Electrical Workers Union, 645, AFL, who resides at 34 Madison Avenue.

William F. Edelmuth, former mayor, who is president of Gateway at 519 Broadway, said that the new contract is from the Technical Tape Corp., Beacon.

The job is rewinding of cellophane tape and inspection of rolls for salvage purposes.

"It is anticipated that the tape company will make enough work available to keep people busy on a regular basis," he said.

Serving with President Edelmuth are Arthur R. Richter, vice president; John W. Clyne, treasurer and Miss Kathleen M. Coughlin, secretary.

Other directors besides Thomas J. Mitchell are these who were re-elected: Elmore Yallum, Herbert Siller, Robert Ronder and Miss Coughlin.

Index Medicines

One way to prevent accidental poisonings in the home is to store the internal and external medicines on different shelves of the medicine cabinet. Paste a sign on the inside of the door indicating which shelf holds each.

Remembers Firemen

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Firemen often are unhailed heroes, but an elderly Albany widow didn't forget them when she made her will last February.

Mrs. Rhoda Pohly Swartz died Oct. 23, 1963. Her will leaves more than $150,000 in specific bequests.

The will provides that "each Christmas for six years after my death, $30 be given to each of the two platoons at Steamer House No. 6, for Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners."

Today in History

Today is Thursday, Nov. 21, the 325th day of 1963. There are 40 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1806, Napoleon issued his Berlin decree which declared the British Isles to be in a state of blockade and forbade all trade or correspondence with England. The decree was issued although Napoleon had barely a warship afloat to enforce the order.

On this date:

In 1789, North Carolina became the 12th state to ratify the Constitution.

In 1877, Thomas Alva Edison announced he had invented a talking machine.

In 1944, U.S. 7th Army troops captured Saarebourg, the French gateway to the German Saar region.

Ten years ago—Italy agreed in principle to attend a five-power conference aimed at finding a solution to the Trieste problem.

Five years ago—Mel Ott, former New York Giant manager and a baseball Hall of Fame member, died in a New Orleans hospital of injuries received in an automobile accident.

One year ago—The Soviet Union canceled the combat-readiness alert of armed forces imposed at the start of the Cuban crisis.

Semester Marks Beginning of End Under GI Bill

The 1963 fall semester marked the beginning of the end of educational and training courses for many veterans studying under the Korean GI Bill, according to Charles Culver, counselor of the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and John Tyler, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency..

Generally, they pointed out, courses started recently by Korean veterans without a service connected disability must be completed by Jan. 31, 1965. No provision has been made to extend this program beyond that date. However, Korean veterans with service connected disabilities are under an entirely different program for which no cut off date has been established. Veterans considering furthering their education or training under the Korean GI Bill should make their plans accordingly.

To be eligible for such readjustment education or training, veterans must have had active service at any time between June 27, 1950, and Jan. 31, 1955. They also must have served at least 90 days and entered training within three years from their first discharge from that service. Re-enlistment does not extend the three year limit. Eligible veterans may choose their own type of training in any approved school or establishment.

They may enroll in schools or colleges; take on the job training; enroll in institutional, on the farm training, or other courses, including flight training, cooperative or correspondence school courses. Veterans will receive an allowance each month to meet part of their training and living expenses.

Complete information on education under the Korean GI bill may be obtained by contacting Culver or Tyler, County Veterans Service Agency, 4 Hurley Avenue. Office hours are Monday through Friday, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

RAINS IN SPAIN—Among the victims of the heavy rains which have been plaguing Spain was movie actress Claudia Cardinale. She found herself sitting under a tree when she should have been working. Her Toledo, Spain, movie set was flooded out.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — With "The Cardinal," Otto Preminger continues his preoccupation with popular novels.

"The Cardinal," adapted from the Henry Morton Robinson novel of several years back, concerns a young Boston priest who makes his way up the line of hierarchy until he is awarded the red hat. The film story is told in flashback form, detailing his family background, his errors and triumphs, his wanderings from a paupers' church in New England to the highest councils of the Vatican.

The cumulative effect is generally good. There is fascination in following the rise of a career churchman. Some of the sequences are well done, particularly the Vienna interlude when the priest's doubts about his vocation cause him to doff his collar for two years. He edges close to a romance, then returns to the Church.

Some of the episodes are mawkish and contrived. The worst is the priest's journey to the Deep South, where he encounters bigotry and brutality.

Preminger manages his large cast with more sureness than he developed the story. Tom Tryon seems a good choice for the searching young religionist. Romy Schneider is excellent as his near-romance in Vienna and the rest of the cast perform ably—Carol Lynley, Burgess Meredith, Bill Hayes, John Saxon, Chill Wills, Maggie McNamara, Cecil Kellaway, Dorothy Gish, etc.

A special word should be said about John Huston. He just about steals the show as the autocratic cardinal from Boston. If he ever wearies of directing other actors, he could settle down to a performing career that would do his father, old Walter, proud.

Fancy up stewed veal by adding mushrooms—fresh or canned.

New Dutchess School, Chapel Contracts Given

Contracts for the construction of a new chapel, which will serve as a mission of St. Peter's Church in Poughkeepsie, and a new eight-classroom school for St. Peter's parish were awarded Wednesday by the New York Archdiocesan Building Commission.

The chapel and school will be constructed on property at the southeast corner of Violet Avenue and Dorsey Lane in the town of Poughkeepsie. The new school will eventually replace the old St. Peter's parish school on Mill Street.

Contractor for the new structures will be the Margotta Construction Company of Tarrytown. The firm of Charles J. Cooke of Poughkeepsie is the architect.

The priests of St. Peter's parish will administer the new chapel.

The parish lines of St. Peter's parish have been extended on the north in order to enable the people of the area to attend the new chapel. The new boundary runs north to a line from the north end of St. Andrew's Seminary to a point approximately two blocks south of Van Winkle Park Settlement and then east to Cream and Compton Roads. This will reduce the territory formerly cared for by the parish of Regina Coeli in Hyde Park.

Strange-Looking Jet Hovers Like 'Copter

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — A strange-looking jet airplane developed under a $2.5-million Army contract took off vertically and then leveled off into normal flight in a demonstration here.

Lockheed-Georgia's new "Hummingbird" can hover like a helicopter or move sideways. It has no propellers. It was shown in its first complete take - off - to - landing operation Wednesday.

Powered by two turbojet engines, the 32-foot-long plane has climbed to 10,000 feet in 58 seconds.

Will Consider Bills To Help Seneca Indians

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Interior subcommittee will meet next Monday and consider bills that would help the Seneca Indians adjust to construction of the Allegheny River dam reservoir.

The move could rule out any hope of congressional approval or even House passage of the measure this year.

The committee has conducted 11 days of hearings on the proposals but the Army and the Indians have been unable to agree on the language for an adjustment bill.

Appraisers for the Army and Indians will be called to testify next Monday on sand and gravel resources the Indians allegedly will lose when the reservoir is filled.

Damages for the sand and gravel resources are one of the major areas of dispute between the two groups.

Find Escapee in Jail

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — search for escapee Raymond James, 23, has ended.

The Negro slipped away two months ago during a recess of his trial on escape and criminal assault.

Officers located him Wednesday while checking fingerprint records. He had been in the county jail here for seven weeks after being picked up on a burglary charge.

Keating Asks Study Group to Aid Farmers

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—U.S. Sen. Kenneth B. Keating has urged creation of a bi-partisan study committee on agriculture as a means of helping the American farmer handle his economic problems.

"Such a committee," the Rochester Republican said Wednesday night, "would call in representatives from all farm and agricultural groups, consumer groups and business organizations... with a view to developing a national food policy which would benefit farmer and consumer."

Keating commented in a speech at the annual convention of the Metropolitan Cooperative Milk Producers Bargaining Agency. About 500 delegates are attending the two-day meeting, which ends today.

GOP Holdouts Firm

HARRISBURG (AP) — Senate Republicans will try again Monday to iron out intra-party differences on their reapportionment plan and push for a final showdown vote later in the week.

Republican leaders failed Wednesday to bring three reported GOP holdouts into line, despite more than three hours behind closed doors.

The internal opposition dimmed hopes of having the Senate and House bills passed by Thanksgiving.

Additional Land Posing Problem For OCS Board

The Onteora Board of Education has an important decision to make in conjunction with its high school expansion program.

Shall it request State Education Department waiver on minimum requirements for land for the combined high school and Benefit facilities?

Or shall it purchase an 18-acre plot adjacent to the Boiceville property, owned by Leonard Colange of Boiceville?

A 1300 pupil high school enrollment projected by 1970 would require a minimum of 28 acres by State Education Department regulations. The Bennett school requires 9 for a total minimum requirement of 37 acres.

The present school property in Boiceville is about 34 or 35 acres, not all usable, leaving the district two acres short of state regulations.

Superintendent Sullivan reported to the board this week that the Colange property is available for purchase at $2,000 an acre or a total of $36,000.

No Sub-Dividing

Colange will only sell the entire tract, the board was informed. He is reported not interested in sub-dividing the acreage.

In a question and answer period, Richard Langham of Woodstock, who was active with the Citizens Committee on the last bond issue, said the cost of the Colange property would be exorbitant. He suggested condemnation as a possible method of acquiring part of the land.

Superintendent Sullivan and Board president Philip Gordon both opposed the condemnation idea, pointing to historic precedent that it might be a costly, drawn out affair that could seriously delay the expansion program.

Look Into Future

On the subject of expansion, Superintendent Sullivan took a speculative look into the future. He said he foresaw the time when the Bennett school would remain the same, servicing the north side of the reservoir, east through Ashokan and Shokan, some parts of Woodstock and Yanketown Pond area.

The next elementary construction might be at West Hurley, expanding the new school to 21 rooms.

The present site at Boiceville would handle 10-12 grade pupils in the entire district. A junior high would be built in Woodstock or West Hurley. An elementary school on the south side of the Ashokan reservoir is a possibility.

Dr. Sullivan said the district should not expand beyond 1500 at the Boiceville site and there should be no more elementary expansion there. The new construction would be geared for 1500 students with all central facilities including cafeteria, gym, library, etc.

Winners Hailed In Talent Show For AFS Chapter

Winners have been announced for the highly successful Student Talent Show, a brilliant melange of music, singing and dancing which jampacked the Woodstock elementary school auditorium to overflow.

Sponsored by the Onteora Chapter of the American Field Service, the program was hailed by an enthusiastic audience as the finest of its kind ever seen in Woodstock. The net proceeds will be turned over to the Onteora chapter.

Among the $10 prize winners were: Vicki Williams, who sang "Days of Wine and Roses"; the guitar and singing team of James Manuel and Gilles Malkine; a dance team of Gianni Lou Muller and Joyce Crowell; Ronnie Bodner, a vocal selection and the dance team of Mary Connick and Deibre Wing, who did their own choreography.

Surprise for All

Andrew Shekitka was the master of ceremonies. The judges panel included: KiKi Godwin, Principal Walter Van Wagenen, Mrs. Gordon Zook, Mrs. Earl Jones and Jules Viglielmo.

The committee in charge of the program has announced that they are preparing a surprise for all children who participated.

Following the show, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Perlman were hosts at a party for the performers and the official personnel at their home on Millstream Road.

Merchants who contributed prizes for the winners were: Colonial Pharmacy, Little Shop, Hilda Lightstone, Bonnie's, H. Houst & Sons, Roger Jones Sport Shop, Andersen Hardware, Don Jackson, Woodstock Liquor Shop, Cousins Appliance, The News Shop, Carey's Delicatessen and Catskill Book Shop.

Tax Delinquency Rated as Low in OCS District

Despite a tax levy increase of more than $400,000 since 1960, the tax delinquency rate in the Onteora Central Schools District has remained constant at the excellent figure of 7.1 percent, it was announced at this week's meeting of the Board of Education.

Of a $1,508,127.75 tax levy for 1963, delinquent taxes amounted to only $107,836.78, with a 2 percent delinquent charge of $1,772.07 for a total of $109,608.85.

The total collected amounted to $1,400,290.97, with $964.68 interest charges for a grand total of $1,401,255.65. The total tax collection was deposited in the Kingston Trust Company, Phoenicia branch.

The amount of tax levy on the various towns was: Woodstock, $393,279; Shandaken, $230,603; Olive, $636,657; Hurley, $237,433; Marbletown, $2,648; Lexington, $7,504.

Total assessed valuation of the Onteora district for the 1973 tax levy amounted to $18,411,895 broken down as follows: Woodstock, $3,510,937; Lexington, $305,351; Shandaken, $4,938,196; Olive, $5,907,536; Hurley, $3,698,300; Marbletown, $51,575.

Area Pedagogues Attend Meeting

Several members of the Woodstock and West Hurley elementary school staffs recently visited the Albany Study Center for Learning Disabilities, where Dr. N. Dale Bryant, executive director and pyschologist of the center, discussed its works and findings and conducted a tour of the facilities.

Several of those attending had been introduced to the work of the center at the New York State Teachers Association, Zone Conference in October by Dr. Paul Patterson, medical director and pediatrician of the center and the visit was a followup.

Children from Albany county are referred to the center either by the schools, their parents or their doctor. The center conducts a "diagnostic and advisory program for children of average or above average intelligence who are not progressing in a basic educational skill, particularly reading."

Boys Hardest Hit

Ninety percent of the children referred are boys, it was noted. Disability is severe enough to place them one year below grade level in the lower grades or two years below in the upper grades.

A great majority of these children are found to have what Dr. Bryant described as "massive unreadiness." They show suggestions of neurological difficulties but not necessarily brain damage.

These children often describe their problem saying, It's in my head but I can't get it down to my hands." The characteristics of many of the reading disabilities seen at the center are confusion in time judgment, left-right confusion, inability to judge distance, and low scoring on tests of motor ability.

Careful Planning

In remedial work the limitations of the child are taken into account. These children have been failures at school and often failures at home because of this. Therefore, in remedial work the child is given material at which he can succeed ninety per cent of the time. Few discriminations are required of the child in the material used. It is believed that any remediation which is not helpful may be harmful. Most of these children have emotional problems, generally as a result of the learning disability.

Since the maturity rates are faster in the female child than the male Dr. Bryant thinks many of these boys could be helped by delayed entrance to school or repetition of Kindergarten. This would avoid the experience of failure.

Those attending from the Woodstock-West Hurley Schools were, Mrs. Erne Levins, elementary principal, Mrs. Carol Larson, reading consultant, Mrs. Mary Caughey, speech therapist, Mrs. Ethel Donaldson, elementary coordinator; Mrs. Jerrine Smith, teacher, and Mrs. Elizabeth Rose, school nurse.

Fine Arts

The term "fine arts" is used for those arts, such as sculpture, painting and music, which are intended primarily to affect the emotions and to give an exalted kind of pleasure as distinguished from the "useful arts" which serve the physical needs.

Name Captains For Woodstock Scout Campaign

Again stressing the central theme of the 1963 Boy Scout drive: "Scouting Builds Better Men", campaign chairmen H. Clark Bell Jr., and Michael J. Boyle today announced the names of team captains in charge of soliciting groups for the Woodstock township drive.

Robert J. Langling and Donald M. Parrish are heading the drive in tht hamlet of Woodstock. Roger Grazier heads the Bearsville-Wittenberg area and Verner L. May is in charge of the Zena drive.

The chairmen stressed that the number of Ulster and Greene county boys participating in Cub scouting. Boy scouting and Explorer programs is rising constantly, creating a need for additional volunteers.

Staff Expanded

More than 40 Scout-minded persons are making a concerted effort to assure the success of the 1963 drive, Bell and Boyle stated. They added that as a result of similar efforts in the past years more than 900 boys of the Rip Van Winkle Council were able to spend a full week at camp during the summer of 1963.

"These volunteers and many others who will assist in various ways, are fully aware of the necessity to raise sufficient funds to assure scouting's growth in Woodstock, and the 25 other Greene and Ulster county towns that make up the Rip Van Winkle Council will continue," they added.

The co-chairmen emphasized that 98 cents out of every dollar donated to the Rip Van Winkle Council remain in the Ulster-Greene County area and directly benefits the boys in the Woodstock area.

New Services For Girl Scouts

The Woodstock-West Hurley area Girl Scouts may now avail themselves of a new service. There is a uniform exchange being operated by Mrs. Rossburg at Route 375 and Clover street.

Any girls who have outgrown their uniforms or have no further need for them are requested to donate them to the exchange. Any girl who wishes to obtain a uniform should contact Mrs. Vossburg to make arrangements.

The scouts are looking forward to their annual candlelight ceremony and song festival. The program will be held Saturday afternoon and all girl scouts in the area will participate. Further details will be made known later.

There is still urgent need for adult volunteers. Interested persons may call Mrs. William W. Fisher, Brook Road.

College Community Orchestra Will Play Tuesday, Nov. 26

The College Community Orchestra of the State University College, New Paltz, will present its first concert of the 1963-64 season on Tuesday evening, Nov. 26 at 8:15 p. m. in the main auditorium of the College.

Miss Jean Fitzgerald, pianist, of Poughkeepsie, will occupy the role of guest soloist with the orchestra in a performance of Mozart's Piano Concerto in C Major, K. V. 467. Mozart was a very prolific composer who wrote 21 or 28 piano concerti, depending on how one interprets some of the related facts. Since the use of opus numbers was not effetcively nor generally employed prior to the time of Beethoven, a comprehensive catalogue of Mozart's works was undertaken by von Koechel a hundred years ago, and it is his index which explains K. or K. V. which one sees constantly as a part of the identification of Mozart's works. The catalogue contains well over six hundred listings.

The orchestra, under the direction of its regular leader, Professor O. Lincoln Igou, of the music faculty of the State College, will open the program with a suite from the Royal Fireworks Music of George Frederic Handel. The various numbers were originally intended for performance outdoors at a festive celebration, but string instruments were eventually added to the group. The better-known Water Music Suite is not unrelated in spirit and both compositions serve as reminders that Handel was by no means exclusively a composer of operas and oratorios.

The Tuesday evening performance will conclutie with Robert Schumann's Third Symphony in E-flat Major, the so-called Rhenish symphony. The composer himself indicates that he intended for the work to "mirror here and there something of Rhenish life." It was his desire to portray in the symphony as a whole the joyful folklore along the Rhine. One does not need a great deal of imagination to discover how well Schumann succeeded.

There is no admission charge to the concert which is open to the general public. After the program, the orchestra will recess until the first of the year before resuming its regular Tuesday evening rehearsals.

Doctors Exchange Marriage Vows Before Nuptial Mass at St. Peter's Church Here

St. Peter's Church, Kingston, was the setting on Saturday Nov. 9 for the marriage of Dr. Joan Viola Kelsch, daughter of Henry F. Kelsch, of Kingston, and the late Elsie Ortlieb Kelsch, to Dr. Anthony John Zangara, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zangara, of Boonton, N. J. The double ring ceremony preceeded a nuptial Mass, offered by the Rev. J. Edwin Kelsch, CSsR, of Philadelphia, uncle of the bride.

Richard Scherer was soloist, and Miss Nan Goldrick was the organist. A reception was given at Tropical Inn in Port Ewen.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a creme silk satin gown fashioned with molded long torso, tapered sleeves, and a circlet neckline. Bodice and skirt were appliqued with motifs of imported lace, and the softly pleated skirt swept back into an aisle wide circular train. She wore a Belgium lace mantilla and carried a family prayer book with gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Vincent C. Post, of Hurley, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a floor length, emerald green velvet gown with fitted bodice, midlength sleeves, and bateau neckline with matching satin cummerbund. She carried a cascade of pale pink Fuji mums.

Attendants were Miss Rose Kelsch of Kingston, sister of the bride, and the Misses Jacqueline and Josephine Zangara of Boonton, N. J., sisters of the bridegroom. They wore gowns identical to that of the honor attendant and carried cascades of Fuji mums in pale pink and green.

Dr. Marshall J. Hanley of New York City was best man. The ushers were Vincent C. Post, brother-in-law of the bride, and Nicholas J. Bevacqua, and Nicholas C. Esposito, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Rochester and Albany Medical College. After pediatric training in Boston City Hospital, she specialized in cardiology at the Buffalo Children's Hospital and the Johns Hopkins Hospital.

The bridegroom is an alumnus of Brown University, Tufts Medical School, and the Harvard School of Public Health. He is on the faculty of the Seton Hall College of Medicine, Jersey City, N. J.

For traveling the bride wore a holly green tweed Italian knit suit with brown accessories.

After a wedding trip to Italy, the couple will reside in Jersey City, N. J. where Dr. Anthony Zangara will resume his duties at the Medical School.

Dr. Anthony and Dr. Joan Zangara expect to be home after December 1.

GRANDPARENTS WERE NOT INVITED

Q: The grandparents of a cousin of mine did not go to his wedding because they did not receive an invitation. The parents of this boy have been divorced for many years and both have remarried. The boy lives with his mother and in the same city as his grandparents whom he visited often. The grandparents (parents of the boy's father) do not associate with the boy's mother except when absolutely necessary. My cousin is hurt because his grandparents did not come to the wedding. He believes that as grandparents of the bridegroom they were automatically invited and an invitation was unnecessary. They feel they should have receivec one. What do you think about this?

A: Because of the unfriendly relationship existing between his grandparents and his mother, they should have received, if not a formal invitation, at least verbal assurance from your cousin or his fiancee that they were expected to come to the wedding, and would be welcome.

A Question of Relationship

Dear Mrs. Post: Two years ago I married a widower with two children. Just recently we had a son of our own. I would like to know what relationship exists between the children. Is our newborn son a stepbrother to my husband's other two children, or a half brother?

A: He is their half brother.

Living Under the Same Roof

Q: My husband's mother came to live with us about eight months ago. I would like to know if it would be permissible to include her name along with my husband's and mine on our Christmas cards, or should she send her own cards?

A: As she is living with you, you may include her name on Christmas cards vou send to relatives and those of your friends who are also friends of hers.

Hurley Library Will Conduct Book Sale; Duplicates, Surplus

The Hurley Library, Old Hurley, Route 209, plans to increase its service to the community by sponsoring a sale of duplicate and surplus books.

Committee in charge includes Mrs. Holcombe Tomson, Mrs. Kenneth Hopper and Miss Joann Maxwell. The Library will share half of its profits with the bazaar.

Wilber - Riley Wedding Announced

Before the altar of the Methodist Church of Shady, on Sunday, Nov. 10 1963 at 2 p. m., Miss Ruth Wilber of Lake Hill, and Robert J. Riley of Saugerties exchanged marriage vows. The Rev. Mr. Mellow was the officiating minister at the double ring ceremony.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Romain Wilber of Lake Hill and the parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Riley of Saugerties.

The bride's father escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. The bride wore a full length gown of ivory brocade. Her elbow length veil of silk, imported from France, was caught to a tiara-type crown of miniature pearls with a crystal bead trim. She carried a colonial bouquet of white pompons and ivy with white satin streamers.

Mrs. Beatrice Shader of Woodstock was maid of honor for her sister. She wore a blue street length gown of lace and carried a colonial bouquet with yellow pompons with yellow satin streamers.

James Riley, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Mrs. Ida MacDaniel was the organist.

The reception was held in the Wittenberg Sportsman's Club immediately after the ceremony with approximately 100 guests attending.

The bride was graduated from Onteora Central School and is employed as a legal secretary in the office of Robert Ronder, attorney. Her husband was graduated from Saugerties High School and is employed by the Mountain View Coach Lines in Saugerties.

Volunteers Promote Blind Worker

LT. DALE NATOLI AT TYPEWRITER

It has been announced officially that Dale Natoli, who attended a rehabilitation school to overcome blindness, is now a commissioned officer in the National Society of the Volunteers of America.

Lt. Natoli, a Kingston native, attended the Batavia State School for the Blind and the New York Institute for the Education of the Blind. He then enrolled through the Vocational Rehabilitation Service of the State of New York.

In the rehabilitation course he studied dictaphone transcribing.

In May, 1961, he went to work for the Volunteers of America at the organization's local station on Broadway and East Strand.

Dedicating himself to the work of the organization, young Natoli studied under the guidance of Capt. and Mrs. Roland Bickford.

Earlier this year he sent in an application in hopes of being accepted as a fully commissioned officer in the Volunteers. His application went through.

Capt. and Mrs. Bickford, after a year's leave of absence, have returned to Kingston and they along with Lt. Natoli have pledged to carry on the work of the Volunteers here.

Capt. Bickford, commenting on the promotion of Natoli, said "the new lieutenant is an asset to the Volunteers of America and certainly a credit to the community."

Lt. Natoli as a youngster used to do weaving at the Ulster County Fair at Forsyth Park and made many friends among visitors from all parts of the area who stopped to watch his work and chat with him.

Hadassah Reception Slated for Sunday; Capping Ceremony

An exciting wig fashion show by Richard Kobran will highlight the Donor Pledge Reception for Kingston Chapter of Hadassah at the home of Mrs. Stanley London, 39 Ridgewood Avenue, Rolling Meadows, on Sunday at 2 p. m. All members who have pledged their donor contributions to Hadassah or who intend to do so now are cordially invited to attend this party given in their honor. Mrs. Alvin Motzkin, Fund Raising Vice President, or Mrs. Arthur Landesman, President, will accept reservations for the reception.

The donor pledge is a new concept in contributing to the work of the Hadassah Medical Organization. Members have been requested to volunteer their support of Hadassah projects by pledging that they will earn or give their donor to the Kingston Chapter by June, 1964. Those who do so will be honored this Sunday, and then again in June at the donor affair, attended by all who have become donors during the year.

A special feature of the reception this Sunday will be the capping ceremony of those members who have pledged their donor plus a 10 per cent oversubscription. Lovely gold pins, facsimiles of the caps worn by nurses in the Hadassah Hospital in Israel, will be presented to the Mmes. Robert Yallum, Oscar London, Sidney Treinkman, Arthur Landesman, Alvin Motzkin, Robert Davis, Samuel Levine, Sidney Wolff and Fred Strauss. Any donors who wish to oversubscribe can do so by contacting Mrs. George Starkman, donor treasurer.

Mets' Tracy Stallard Is Speaker for OTBA

Dinner Slated Dec. 5 at Elks

One of the New York Mets' more colorful performers — 6 foot 5 pitcher Tracy Stallard — will be one of the speakers at the Old Timers Baseball Association's 14th annual Hall of Fame dinner Dec. 5 at the Elks Lodge.

Association president, John J. McCardle, said arrangements to send Stallard to Kingston were made by Tom Meany, promotion director of the New York National League Club.

McCardle also announced that an invitation to speak at the dinner has been extended Paul S. Kerr, president of the National Baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown.

The dinner on Dec. 5 is in honor of three former area baseball stars who will be inducted into the local Hall of Fame. They are pitchers Bill Lohrman and William McAuliffe and former manager-first baseman, Lester Lawrence. The Kingston High School Senior Player of the Year also will be honored.

Casey Favorite

One of Manager Casey Stengel's favorites, the lanky Stallard won only six games in the 1963 season but is considered one of the Mets' best prospects for the future.

The 26-year-old Herald, Va. native appeared in 39 games, compiling a 6 and 17 record. He struck out 110 batsmen, walked 77 and had a 4.67 earned run average. He weighs 205 and is a fireballing right hander.

A brisk ticket sale caused president McCardle to urge early purchases by area baseball fans. A gathering of more than 200 is expected at the Elks Lodge.

"The dinner is open to the public as always," said McCardle. Tickets may be purchased from any member of the Old Timers group. Thomas M. (Tommy) Davitt is ticket chairman.

Mets Unveil Shea Stadium Against Pirates, April 17

The New York Mets will unveil their new baseball showplace at Shea Stadium amidst bunting and marching bands on the afternoon of Friday, April 17, 1964. The Pittsburgh Pirates will be the opposition on the gala opening.

This was announced today by the Mets along with their entire '64 home schedule. Earlier it was revealed that the Mets road opener will take place on April 14 in Philadelphia.

The April 17 lid-lifter will launch a solid week of play for the Mets at their new Flushing Meadow Park. The Pirates will be in town for the first weekend through Sunday, April 19. The Phillies come in for afternoon games on April 20 and 21, and the Chicago Cubs follow for afternoon contests on April 22 and 23.

29 games will be played under the new mercury vapor lights at Shea Stadium, the first on Wednesday, May 6 against the Reds.

There will be only two Saturday night games, against the Phillies on Aug. 15 and against the World Champion Los Angeles Dodgers on Sept. 5.

Ten Doubleheaders

Ten doubleheaders have been scheduled, nine coming on Sunday, the other being a Labor Day bargain bill against Houston. The Mets also will be at home on Memorial Day, May 30, for a Saturday afternoon game against the Giants, followed by a doubleheader against the same club the next afternoon.

Every club except Pittsburgh, will play at least one doubleheader here. The Reds and Colt .45s will face the Mets twice in twin bills.

Also, there will be nine Ladies Days, one against each club and all except one occurring on Saturday afternoons. The lone exception is a Thursday afternoon, September 3, Ladies Day against San Francisco. The only Saturday game here against the Giants falls on the aforementioned Memorial Day.

Meanwhile, season ticket orders at the new park are coming in at a pace faster than last year at this time. New applications should be directed to Ticket Manager, Polo Grounds, New York 39, N. Y.

Game times will be the same as last season: All afternoon games will start at 2 p. m. and all night games at 8 p. m. The nine Sunday doubleheaders will start at 2 p. m. The Labor Day pair is scheduled at 1:30 p. m.

Ex-Bear Brown Leads Pitt Hopes Against Chicago

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bears' excellent pass defense gets challenged a second successive week by a former Bear bomber in Sunday's meeting with the dangerous Pittsburgh Steelers.

This time the Western Division leader of the National Football League must try to handcuff Ed Brown, who once shared Bear quarterbacking with Zeke Bratkowski, current Green Bay Packer reserve.

Zeke was something less than a ball of fire as he spelled starter John Roach late in last Sunday's stinging 26-7 Bear spanking of the Packers.

The remarkable Bear secondary which currently has no fewer than three men among the top seven NFL interception specialists filched three of Brat's 11 tosses.

Best Year for Brown

The 34-year-old Brown figures to be a much more bristling problem for the Bears than Zeke, rusty after a long Packer bench sojourn.

Brown, traded to the Steelers in 1962 after eight Bear seasons, is having his best year. His 255 attempts already surpass his greatest number of tosses in any full Bear season. He has completed 124, one shy of his most hits as a Bear—125 in 1959. His 14 touchdown shots exceed his total of 13 for that same season, his Bear career high.

Swept out of the Bear den with Bratkowski as Chicago got the Los Angeles Rams' Bill Wade, Brown will be itching to derail personally, or at least slow up, Chicago's divisional title express.

SCHOLASTIC CORNER

By ED PALLADINO

Kingston High players are in an enviable position come Thanksgiving Day. Though they can't finish any higher than a tie for third place in the DUSO league standings, they can win the championship for Port Jervis, provided the Raiders get by Middletown on the same day.

All the locals have to do is pin a setback on the Goldbacks of Newburgh Free Academy. If that occurs, then Port Jervis can win all the marbles by either tying or beating Middletown.

A JOB WELL DONE

Frankly, though we watched Port Jervis demolish Kingston with some precision running, blocking and all-around good defensive, we weren't one of those who thought the Porters were going to rout Newburgh last Saturday.

However, we did think the Raiders would be too good for coach Rip Fornal's club, which had shown a good defense but very little in the way of an offense in previous engagements.

After watching the teams break even in their big battle, we thought that Fornal did an outstanding coaching job in even staying close to the Porters, who are the best team in the league.

HUSTLED ALL THE WAY

Newburgh forced Port into numerous offensive mistakes. The Goldies put the rush on quarterback Ricky Spears, forcing him to be as bad on Saturday as he was good against Kingston.

Newburgh hustled from start to finish, never giving up. Port knocked on the touchdown door most of the second half but couldn't put the pigskin across.

The tie game makes the traditional Thanksgiving Day contests more than annual tilts. Both front runners have to win to tie for the crown. The Middies and Maroon players have everything to gain and nothing to lose. They should be fired up to produce their best efforts of the season. The results could be interesting.

ALL-AMERICAN TIME

Members of the Football Writers Assn. of America have sent in ballots for their All-American clubs. Since everyone has ideas as to who should make the club, here's a gander at ours. We feel certain of one thing. We are not alone in picking Roger Staubach of Navy as the all-star quarterback. In fact, if he is left off the ballot, the writer should be investigated. He hasn't been following football.

At ends we pick Hal Bedsole of Southern California and Jim Kelly of Notre Dame. Tackles are Archie Sutton, Illinois and Ralph Neely, Oklahoma. Dick Nowak of Army and Bob Brown of Nebraska are our choice at the guard posts and the center is Ed Conti of Syracuse. Behind Staubach in the backfield we like Jay Wilkinson (Bud's son) of Duke, Gale Sayers of Kansas and Cosmo Iacavazzi of Princeton.

COACH TALKS, REFEREE WALKS

It was first down and goal on Edmond's seven yard line for Oklahoma City's John Marshal High School early in the fourth quarter of their football game when a brief scuffle broke out.

The refereee paced off 15 yards against John Marshall and it was first and 22.

At that point, the Marshall coach ran onto the field to have a few words with the referee, who paced off another 15, making it first and 37.

The coach kept arguing and the referee kept walking. The coach walked and talked. The referee just walked.

Finally, the coach quit talking and the referee quit walking.

Marshall resumed the attack on its own 7, first down and 93 yards to go.

Marshall was forced to punt. But it won the game, 42-8.

Baseball Federation Drops Olympic Hassle With A.A.U.

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP)—The U.S. Baseball Federation says it will abandon temporarily — for the good of the 1964 Olympics—its efforts to wrest from the Amateur Athletic Union the right to represent the United States on an international baseball group.

But the federation served notice Wednesday it would press its bid in 1965, thereby joining the National Collegiate Athletic Association in a battle with the AAU for control of amateur athletics.

The AAU alone has held the power to sanction U.S. entrants in international competition.

Everett D. Barnes, federation president and Colgate University athletic director, said his group would cooperate with the U.S. Olympic Committee to complete arrangements the federation had begun for baseball exhibition games in Tokyo next year.

Hopes dimmed for the exhibition games when the U.S. Olympic Committee overrode its own board of directors earlier this month and refused to turn over to Barnes' group its seat on the International Baseball Federation.

The committee also turned down the U.S. federation's request for membership on the Olympic Committee.

Barnes said the AAU, which has a controlling voice on the committee, exercised the blackball against his group. The NCAA — the AAU's rival — supported the federation's bid.

The dispute underscored the struggle between the AAU and NCAA for dominance in amateur athletics. A truce has been declared in the feud at least until the Olympics.

The U.S. Baseball Federation, coordinating body for amateur baseball, comprises representatives of the four branches of the Armed Services, the NCAA, the National Junior College Athletic Association and the National Committee for Amateur Baseball.

Veron Law Returns To Pirates in 1964

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Vernon Law, who retired last season three years after being named the majors' top pitcher, will return to baseball with Pittsburgh next season.

The Pirates said Wednesday the 1960 Cy Young Award winner will go to spring training to try and win a spot on the team.

Law, 33, has been plagued with sore arm trouble since the Pirates' 1960 World Series victory over the New York Yankees.

U.S. in Tennis Win

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., raised the Davis Cup hopes of the United States Thursday when he defeated Australian ace Roy Emerson in the semifinals of the South ships.

Ralston turned back the No. 1 ranked Australian 6-4, 2-6, 3-6, 6-2, 12-10 and will meet Australia's John Newcombe in the finals Sunday.

The U.S. challenges Australia for the Davis Cup Dec. 26-28 on the Adelaide courts.

Old Pro Gridders 'Retire' Until SOS Signal Sound

By RON WILSON

DETROIT (AP) — Old professional football players don't fade away. They just wait on the other side of that hill they supposedly went over for an SOS from a problem-plagued teams.

Howard Hopalong Cassady is the latest example. Released by the Philadelphia Eagles before the current season began, the 29-year-old Cassady is returning to the National Football League with his first club—the Detroit Lions.

Other old pros who came to mind are Ralph Gugliemi, Jim Martin, Joe Perry and Bobby Layne.

Cassady barely had agreed to take a job with the Ohio Youth Commission when the Lions pushed the panic button Wednesday. They signed him as a free agent and announced that Hopalong would finish the season as a defensive back.

The Lions secondary has been shredded by injuries to Yale Lary, Gary Lowe, Dick (Night Train) Lane, and Dick Compton.

Cassady, a former All-America at Ohio State, was a Lion star for six years, working mainly out of the pass-catching flanker slot. Traded away, Cassady ran into bad luck. He suffered a broken leg with the Philadelphia Eagles last season and was cut from the squad earlier this year.

He has accepted an appointment with the Ohio Youth Commission as a $10,000-a-year administrative assistant and is expected to start on that job next month after finishing with the Lions.

The Lions had their own precedent for the Layne and Cassady moves. In 1959, they brought lineman Lou Creekmur out of retirement. And before the 1963 season began, retired kicker Jim Martin donned his old togs in Detroit. But he soon was shipped to Baltimore.

Perry is another retread still seeing action while bouncing in and out of the NFL. He's back with the San Francisco 49ers, the club he broke in with. Perry spent some time with Baltimore before returning to the 49ers.

Gugliemi quit when the New York Giants traded him to the 49ers. Then he signed with Philadelphia.

Irate Residents Call Area Hunters 'Irresponsible'

ANCRAM, N.Y. (AP) — Residents of a heavily wooded area near this community southeast of Hudson have called for action against irresponsible hunters.

About 40 residents complained Wednesday to their legislators, State Police and the State Conservation Department that:

"Year after year, the danger and growth of population ... with the growth, too, of incredibly irresponsible behavior on the part of men away from home.

"Men who think nothing of riddling the side of a barn with bullets; men who blow off the hind quarters of a rabbit and stand watching its death agonies; men who shoot .30-.30 rifles, uncaring that bullets can travel with force to kill for three miles."

The deer - hunting season opened Monday in this area.

Irate residents say their problems increase with weekend invasions by hunters from Massachusetts and Connecticut—where Sunday hunting is banned—and from southern New York counties — Dutchess, Putnam and Westchester—that ban high-calibre rifles.

Schayes Sees Playoff Berth For 76er Squad

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Philadelphia 76ers, nee the Syracuse Nationals, haven't set the National Basketball Association on fire since the franchise was shifted to the Quaker City. Nevertheless Coach Dolph Schayes is confident his 76ers will make the playoffs by beating out the revived New York Knicks in the Eastern Division.

Beaten in two previous games by the Knicks, the 76ers turned the tables on the New Yorkers Wednesday night, 118-101, as Lee Shaffer and Hal Greer combined for 54 points. It was the first Philadelphia victory of the season over the Knicks and gave the 76ers a two-game lead over the team they must beat to make the playoffs.

The Detroit Pistons snapped a three-game losing streak by coming from behind to defeat the Cincinnati Royals 124-118 in Wednesday's other scheduled NBA game.

Dave Gambee suffered a possible fracture of the matatarsal bone in his left foot and may be lost to Philadelphia for a week or so.

Pug Touchy; No Bout

WEIRTON, W. Va. (AP) — A scheduled 10-round middleweight boxing bout between Jimmy Beecham of Philadelphia and Bobby Worthem of Buffalo was called off Wednesday night when Beecham refused to fight, Promoter Don Elbaum said.

Elbaum said Beecham refused to fight because he wasn't picked up at his hotel in neighboring Steubenville, Ohio, as has been arranged.

California Ace Sets WIBC Mark With 300-792

Janet Harman of La Mirada, Calif., the 1961 WIBC Queens champion, set a new all-time WIBC three-game series record of 792, while bowling in the Los Angeles Open Traveling League on Oct. 28. It is the highest three-game series in the 47-year history of the women's organization.

Her record series, on games 216-276-300, broke the previous record of 787, bowled by Angela Mica of St. Louis, Mo., during the 1956-57 season. Lead-off bowler on the Catalano's Enterprises team, Janet rolled 28 strikes during her spectacular series, seven in the first game, nine in the second and 12 in the third.

Winner of the 1963 Professional Woman Bowler's Association (PWBA) championship, Janet opened her second game with nine strikes in a row, spared in the 10th frame, then left the 2-4-5 pins in her last ball. She over-shadowed that fine 276 performance with her third game of 300.

It was her first sanctioned 300 game and her third 700 series. She was averaging 182 before bowling 792.

Elusive Sayers Fools Himself

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Gale Sayers, the Kansas phantom who leads the nation in rushing, is an instinctive football runner who thinks with his feet, saves his best efforts for the best teams and scorns low-cut shoes.

"I don't think when I come to a tackler . . . fake one way and cut the other," Sayers said. "I really don't know how I do it."

The elusive 202-pound junior from Omaha, Neb., has broken loose for 849 yards in nine games. His average of 6.1 yards a carry equal his nation-leading average of 1962, when he was No. 3 in rushing with 1,125 yards.

The Jayhawks have used him more often as decoy this season than last, to open up the middle when the other team shifts to stop him. He isn't carrying the ball quite as much, but he has saved his biggest days and plays for the best teams—a 99-yarder at Nebraska and 61-yarder at Oklahoma.

"This boy is an All-America halfback if there ever was one," Coach Jack Mitchell said. "In a one-on-one situation, he is without equal. He can cut at a right angle without losing speed.

Sayers' spurning of low-cuts may be a shock to other aspiring young speed-burners. Sayers wears old-fashioned high-tops, has ever since he hurt an ankle slightly in the opener against TCU.

"They protect your ankle a little," he said. "The added weight of two ounces is all in your mind—it's not going to slow me down."

Eleven in Running For the Gator Bowl

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The Gator Bowl listed 11 football teams today as still receiving prime consideration for the Dec. 28 game.

Joe Sykora, chairman of the selection committee, said they are: Pittsburgh, Alabama, Auburn, Mississippi, North Carolina, Georgia Tech, Louisiana State, Air Force, Nebraska, Penn State and Syracuse.

MARY COONS rolled 469 in the Sawyer Women's League. Pat Pavlak hit 468 and Lois Buchan 463; team scores: Katsbaan Inn 2, Joseph's Beauty Salon 1; Wynne Pontiac 2, Byrne Chevrolet 1; Sauer's Sizzlers 2, Thorntonettes 1; Hamm Buick 2, Lowe's E-Z Do Pools 1.

LYNN BROWN rolled 460 in the Sunday Nighters League at Boiceville Lanes.

J. R. Corp. 1; Tantillo's Market 3, Berean Press 1, and College Diner 4, Houghtaling's Cities Service 0.

There's No Ice Like Home Ice For Red Wings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's no ice like home for the Detroit Red Wings. And one of the best things about their home ice is that it doesn't have Bobby Hull on it all the time.

The Red Wings started Wednesday night at Chicago as if they were going to break their long spell of road frustration.

They were in front 2-0 after 12 minutes, but then Hull went to work and tied the score with his 13th and 14th goals of the season. The Black Hawks went on to a 5-2 victory.

Detroit now has failed to gain a victory in eight road games since the National Hockey League season started. They have one tie.

In a full NHL schedule, Gilles Villemure made his debut in the nets for the New York Rangers a good one in a 1-1 tie with the Boston Bruins at Madison Square Garden, and Montreal topped Toronto 3-1 at Toronto.

Hull's two goals moved him into a two-point lead in the league scoring race. He has 28 points to 26 for Montreal's Jean Beliveau, who was shut out at Toronto.

Chicago captain Pierre Pilots suffered a fractured nose in the last period when he was hit by the puck.

Wants Extra Effort

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP)—Colgate football coach Hal Lahar challenged his squad Wednesday to make "an extra effort at Brown on Saturday to end the season with a respectable record."

A victory by the Red Raiders would give Colgate a 4-4-1 record for the season.

Action Expected In Interleague Baseball Swaps

NEW YORK (AP) — The official lid was off today for interleague trading in baseball. General managers who have been feeling each other out on the telephone now are free to get down to serious business and swap for real.

The three - week interleague period, during which big league clubs can trade without the necessity of getting waivers, opened at midnight Wednesday.

Judging by the American League deal in which the Detroit Tigers traded Rocky Colavito for Jerry Lumpe and pitchers Dave Wickersham and Ed Rakow, that's apt to be plenty of action.

The New York Mets, who need plenty of everything, declared they are ready to deal. Veteran outfielder Frank Thomas, a right-handed pull hitter, is their chief stock in trade since they swapped right-hander pitcher Roger Craig to the Cards for outfielder George Altman.

Most of the wheeling and dealing is expected to occur during the minor and major league meetings at San Diego and Los Angeles early next month.

In the National League the names of Cincinnati's Vada Pinson, Joey Jay and Gordy Coleman; San Francisco's Orlando Cepeda and Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews have been mentioned in connection with trades.

The trade winds in the AL may be blowing around Leon Wagner of the Los Angeles Angels, Jackie Brandt and Jim Gentile of the Baltimore Orioles, Lu Clinton and pitcher Earl Wilson of the Boston Red Sox and pitching ace Jim Bunning of the Detroit Tigers.

Big Ten Factor: Illini Rushing, Spartan Defense

If statistics are an accurate gauge, Illinois is going to have its problems in its game against Michigan State Saturday for the Big Ten title and Rose Bowl bid.

Figures compiled by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau disclosed today that the Spartans have one of the best defensive teams in the country, particularly against teams that move the ball on the ground.

Rushing happens to be Illinois' favorite mode of attack.

Although Mississippi is the national leader in total defense, having yielded only an average of 138.4 yards a game, Michigan State is fourth in the list and ranks No. 1 in rushing defense.

The Spartans have permitted an average of only 71.3 yards a game on the ground. They have permitted less than two yards—1.9 yards to be exact—on every rush, as an average.

Although fourth in total defense behind Mississippi, Southern Mississippi and Memphis State, the Michigan Staters with 171.5 yards yielded per game have the best record among teams that play a completely major schedule.

The Spartans also have been stingy with points — permitting only 6.3 points a game. They're fourth nationally in this category.

Mississippi is the team leader in defense against scoring, with a .9 points a game given up, as well as over-all defense. Texas Western has the best pass defense, giving up only 40.1 yards a game through the air.

Strohsahl Is Awarded Cross Country Numeral

Edward Strohsahl of Saugerties was one of 12 Union College freshmen awarded their numerals for participation in the freshman cross country team, Bill Ketz has announced.

The team finished with a record of two wins and three losses. Strohsahl, a graduate of Saugerties High school, is a liberal arts major. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward V. Strohsahl, 122 Market Street, Saugerties, who are well known in golf circles.

Cold Air Hits Rockies, Plains; Mild Elsewhere

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The season's coldest weather spread across the Northern Rockies and Western Plains today but it was fairly mild in most other parts of the nation.

Below - zero temperatures chilled many sections of Montana as the cold air from Canada spread across most parts of the state, southward into Wyoming and eastward into the western Dakotas.

Temperatures edged toward zero in some areas outside Montana. One of the coldest spots was Cut Bank, Mont., with 11 below.

Light snow fell in the cold air but no severe storms were reported. More than eight inches of snow was reported in West Yellowstone, Mont., and up to a foot covered the Kalispell region in northwestern Montana.

The cold belt penetrated many areas from the northwestern Great Lakes region southward to northern Iowa and northern Nebraska and into the Dakotas and northeastern Wyoming.

Scouts Present Books to School

The local celebration of American Education Week, Nov. 10-16, was marked Tuesday by a salute from Girl Scouts to the public schools of New Paltz.

Mrs. John Taylor, of the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts appeared at a meeting with Mrs. Marjorie Glenn a school member, as representative of 24 Girl Scouts in Troop 44.

She presented copies of four new Girl Scout handbooks, published simultaneously this fall, to Mrs. Glenn.

In presenting the books, Judy Carter, Linda Bartow, Kathy Smith and Jean Hauer called them a token of the positive attitude of volunteers toward the total education of girls and toward the partnership between Girl Scouting and the schools. Referring to the complete set of books for Girl Scouts and their leaders as "a landmark in curriculum development," the Scouts pointed out that the entire Girl Scout Program for two and one-half million girl members has now been researched, analyzed, redesigned, redeveloped, and rewritten.

Sets of the new books were also presented to the superintendent of schools and principals in Wallkill, Marlboro, Kyserike, New Paltz, Highland, Saugerties, Boiceville and Kingston.

Thanksgiving Service Slated Sunday Night

An unusual Thanksgiving service will be held at the New Paltz Church of the Nazarene Sunday 7 p. m.

Mothers, teachers, and friends of the eighth grade girls at the New Paltz Central School were entertained at a fashion show recently. Each member of the class modeled the skirt which she had just completed as a major project for the first ten weeks in homemaking.

Although the skirts were fashioned in the same style, they were individualized through each girl's choice of color and fabric. Following the fashion show, refreshments were served.

The entire program was a class project carried out by the eighth grade Homemaking classes under the direction of Mrs. Esther Winkky, homemaking teacher.

Widow of Partner To Baker to Be Quizzed on Deals

WASHINGTON (AP) — A blonde widow who fell heir to a parnership with Robert G. Baker in ownership of a plush resort motel goes before the Senate Rules Committee today for questioning about his business dealings.

She is Mrs. Gertrude (Trudy) Novak, mother of two and an employe of the Senate Small Business Committee for the last 13 years.

Quiz on Transactions

Behind the closed doors of the Rules Committee, Mrs. Novak was to be questioned about the motel venture and other transactions in which Baker had a part.

Baker, 35, resigned as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority after allegations of conflict of interest.

Mrs. Novak's husband, Alfred S. Novak, was Baker's partner in the posh Carousel Motel at Ocean City, Md., that was sold earlier this year to the Serv -U Vending Co., a vending machine firm with which Baker had dealings.

Novak died in March 1962, his death ruled a suicide, and his widow inherited his partnership.

Two Years of Turmoil

Mrs. Novak told a reporter her husband's death came after "two years of turmoil that started with his interest in that motel. . . It's just been one thing after another."

The motel opened a party which drew Washington figures, including Vice President Lyn B. Johnson, but apparently fizzled financially under the Baker-Novak management.

Committee investigators were reported to have questioned Wednesday the man who blew the whistle on Baker — Ralph L. Hill.

Suit Started All

Hill is chairman of the Capital Vending Machine Co. and plaintiff in a civil suit charging Baker and associates used improper influence to cancel a vending machine contract in favor of another firm.

His suit is what brought to public notice Baker's wheeling and dealing, and ultimately brought about Baker's resignation from his $19,600 a year state job.

Hill was questioned in secret four hours not only about the vening machine case but about other of Baker's business and financial dealings.
